Smallest triathlon staged at town park

ORGANISERS hope a fun sporting event will find its way into the Guinness Book of Records as the world's shortest triathlon.

KP Events, organisers of the Lichfield Half Marathon and Cathedral Dash, are staging the record attempt on May 5 around Prince's Park in Burntwood – already established as the world's smallest park.

They are urging people of all abilities to sign up for the event, with money raised going to We Love Lichfield, a group that provides small grants to a wide range of projects across the district.

Idea

Participants will cycle on an exercise bike for 10 seconds then run for 55 paces before swimming the final leg in a specially designed pool.

The whole event will last between 25 and 45 seconds and it will be sent to the Guinness Book of World Records for verification.

Organiser Kevin Wilson said he dreamed the idea up after the world's smallest fun run attempt last year.

He said: "We had over 300 people run around it last spring Bank Holiday. Everybody had a great time so I thought we'd have another go but be more adventurous."

Concert for Paul's Fund

THE Cannock Chase Male Orpheus Choir performs this weekend in memory of a man who died from a rare form of leukaemia.

The concert at Chasetown Methodist Church from 7.30pm on Saturday is in aid of Paul's Fun Fund, set up in memory of Paul Lee-Davis, who died aged 37, in 2011.

Tickets are £5, available via e-mail at cannockcp@yahoo.co.uk or pay on the door.

Soloist Sharron Burns will also be performing.

STEPHEN'S £1M GOAL SMASHED

DYING teenager Stephen Sutton has reached his goal in raising £1m for the Teenage Cancer Trust as donations flooded in from across the globe.

The final push came yesterday morning (Wednesday) with half of the final £200,000 needed raised in under three hours. By 1.15pm the total had reached more than £1.126m.

From under £600,000 at the start of Tuesday evening the total spiralled to hit the £1m mark.

The amazing show of support came after the Burntwood teenager, battling incurable cancer, posted a last picture of himself in hospital with a 'final thumbs up'.

From his hospital bed Stephen tweeted: "Wow. Just wow. Thank you all so much."

And, in a heartbreaking message to followers around the world he said: "Cancer sucks, but life has been brilliant."

He said he was massively grateful for the surge of support, which has seen his fundraising dream realised.

Claimed

The plea sparked a massive appeal and at one point on Tuesday night £20,000 an hour was being donated on his JustGiving page.

The following morning began with £200,000 – with the figure rising by hundreds of pounds every minute. An extra £75,000 will also be claimed in gift aid.

Celebrities including Stan Collymore, Piers Morgan, Simon Cowell and Clare Balding tweeted their support and urged others to get behind the cause.

Comedian Jason Manford, who met Stephen at a charity event, pledged £10,000 which was then believed to have been matched by fellow funnyman John Bishop.

By Rob Gollidge

Manford said: "One dying boy wished for one magnificent thing, not for himself but for the benefit of hundreds of other children."

"It was an honour to have met you."

Stephen made it his mission to raise £1m for charity, having smashed his original £10,000 target months ago. It was one of his 'bucket list' of 46 things to do.

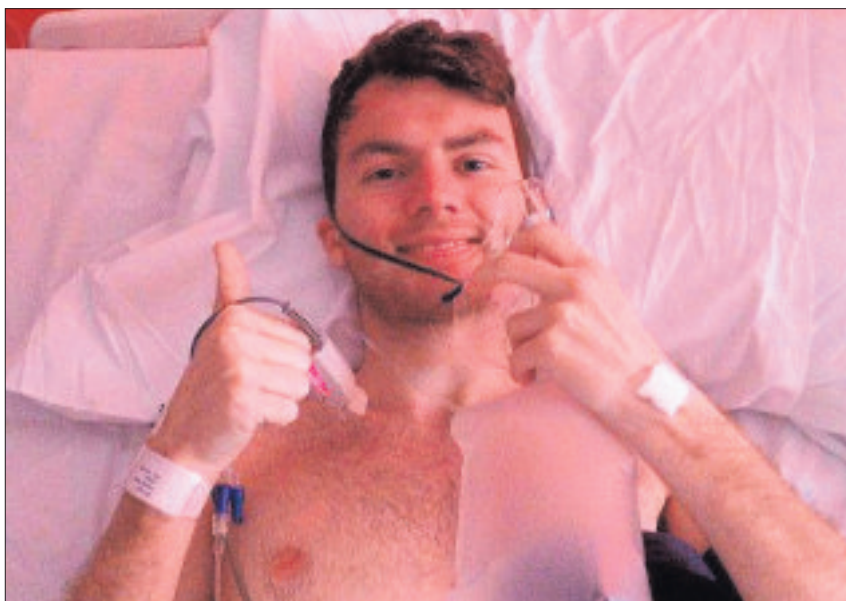

The 19-year-old posted poignant messages on his Facebook page following his latest health setback – including a photograph of him in hospital giving his 'final thumbs up'.

He said: "It's a final thumbs up from me! I've done well to bag things as well as I have up till now, but unfortunately I think this is just one hurdle too far."

"There's so many people I haven't got round to properly thank or say goodbye too. Apologies for that."

"There was also so many exciting projects and things I didn't get to see out. Hopefully some will continue and if you want to carry on the fundraising please do."

Householder burns hand in blaze

A MAN was treated for a burn to his hand after he tried to tackle a chip pan fire in Cannock Chase.

The blaze happened at Chetwynd Park, in Rawsley, on Sunday, Staffordshire fire service said. Crews from Cannock and Chase Terrace attended.

The man had left a chip pan on a gas hob before returning to join his family in the living room. They were alerted to the fire when the smoke detectors activated.

Three of the residents left the property when they heard the alarm. However, the man attempted to tackle the blaze using a damp towel before rushing outside with the pan.

He was treated by paramedics for a burn to his hand.

Consequences

Station manager Paul Cullen, who was in charge of the incident, said: "This was a lucky escape for the family and it could have had very different consequences if the property had not been fitted with working smoke detectors which alerted them to the fire."

"The incident serves to demonstrate how vital it is to have these safety devices fitted, to test them regularly and to ensure they are in good working order."

"The male occupant put himself in a dangerous situation when he tried to extinguish the blaze. When you become aware of a fire, immediately leave the building, call 999 and leave the experts to deal with the situation."

Trekking centre's work to go ahead

AMBITIOUS plans for a horse riding and pony trekking centre will begin to take shape in the next two months.

A new riding school and 46 stables will be built to accommodate more horses at Chase Trekking Centre, on the main A34 between Cannock and Stafford.

There will also be a new visitor centre and medical room creating half a dozen new jobs.

Manager Lucy Rostance said the application was put in last year after the centre received a record 17,000 visitors in 12 months.

Excited

She said: "The owner, Lisa Gregory, has had these plans in mind for around eight years now and we are both so excited that they are finally getting under way."

"The transformation will create new jobs because we will need new people to work in the cafe and the visitors centre."

The centre has been operating for 19 years and is used by schools and colleges for organised trips as well as offering students work experience and riding lessons.

There are currently 15 members of full time and part time staff at the 40-acre site as well as 44 horses for trekking activities.

Appeal over missing man

POLICE are appealing for help to trace a missing man.

Stephen Greatrix, aged 45, of Chaseside Drive, Rugeley, was last seen at about 2pm on Monday (April 21). His car has been found parked in the town centre.

Stephen is white, 5ft 10ins, of slim build, with short mousey hair and thought to be wearing a long black sleeved top and a grey Craghoppers top.

Anyone with information should call 101 quoting incident 446 of April 22.

'Good' rating for rural academy

OFSTED inspectors have given a boost to The Rural Enterprise Academy by rating it as 'Good'.

The academy, at Rodbaston, near Penkridge, is the UK's first and only free school dedicated to the land-based sector and caters for 14-to-18-year-olds.

The academy, which shares a 180-hectare parkland site with South Staffordshire College, is also commended for the guidance students get in taking their next steps in education.

Principal Lorraine Makin said: "The Academy is a successful and happy place for students, where we have been able to build an environment that encourages students to create, to inspire and to lead."

South Staffordshire College Chief Executive Principal Graham Morley said: "The school is still recruiting for Year 10, is opening a sixth form this September and its reputation will be further enhanced by this inspection result."

Improvement notices served on trust lifted

THREE improvement notices served on the trust which runs Stafford Hospital have been lifted. They were served after an investigation into the death of a patient.

The Health and Safety Executive launched an inquiry after the death of Edith Bourne in July last year. She had been transferred to Stafford's A&E department from Cannock Chase Hospital.

Have a say on district homes plan

A SERIES of consultation events are being held for people to have their say over plans for new homes.

South Staffordshire Council needs to build 1,100 homes across the district over the next 15 years to cope with increasing demand.

A site allocation document has been drawn up, detailing figures for villages across the district. A nine week consultation is currently taking place.

Information will be on public display at Cheslyn Hay Village Hall, in Pinfold Lane, on Tuesday, April 29.

Others include Pattingham Village Hall on May 1 and at St Paul's Church in Coven on May 6. The exhibition will move to Featherstone Community Centre on May 8, Kinver Constitutional Club on May 12 and Jubilee Hall in Brewood on May 15.

People can have their say on the site allocations by 5pm on May 19.

Views will be taken on board before further and more detailed plans are drawn up.

Comments should be made in writing by visiting the dedicated page on the South Staffs Council website.

The 84-year-old died at Stafford's Acute Medical Unit.

The Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust was served with the improvement notices late last year relating to procedures for risk assessments for falls, and arrangements for exchanging and recording patient information.

Trust bosses asked for a two-month extension after admitting they would fail to meet the original February 14 deadline.

But now the HSE has notified bosses that they are satisfied with the work the trust has done to address their concerns and will be lifting the orders.

Procedures

Tust chief executive Maggie Oldham, who launched an internal inquiry after the death, said: "Since November 2013 our staff have worked closely with the HSE to understand their findings and take the necessary actions to improve our procedures to their satisfaction."

The trust were required to comply with the orders by February 14 or risk prosecution. The notices set out what remedial action was necessary.

The trust contacted Ms Bourne's family to make them aware of the situation and apologised for the 'shortcomings in the care provided'.

The Inspector acknowledged the progress made by the trust.

Marathon bid Evans sent

Chris and Claire Evans in their fancy dress London Marathon outfits

MARRIED couple Claire and Christopher Evans completed the London Marathon – and were picked out by Yahoo for the race's wackiest costumes.

The Heath Hayes couple, both aged 30, also featured in the TV coverage of the annual event.

Christopher packed a punch dressed as Rocky Balboa, while Claire was easy to pick out as Wenda from Where's Wally.

They completed the course in five hours and seven minutes. Claire said: "We're big fans of the Rocky films and the Where's Wally books, and it really helped us raise more money – people knew who we were and what we were running for. Also it was fun! It was an awesome experience."

The pair have raised more than £4,000 through charity bag packsand even a sponsored wax of Chris's chest.

Officer in zip wire challenge for charity

A POLICE officer and two colleagues are braving a 'zip line' challenge to help local charity projects.

Chief Inspector Sarah Wainwright, from the Integrated Offender Management Unit, will join Elizabeth Nock and Tammy Phillips from Victim Support for the daredevil ride on a zip line across a Welsh quarry on Saturday.

They will reach speeds of up to 100 mph during the one-mile ride.

Chief Inspector Wainwright is raising money for three boxing projects in the county, which aim to provide a diversion from crime.

Ch Insp Wainwright said: "It gives them self-discipline and focuses them in a positive way, improving their health and wellbeing and encourages them to turn their backs on drug and alcohol addictions, which helps to reduce re-offending."

"The projects are supported through invaluable contributions and I am hoping to raise much needed funding for equipment and a mentoring scheme."

Elizabeth and Tammy are raising money for Victim Support and Cruse bereavement care. To donate, email sarah.wainwright@staffordshire.pnn.police.uk

Screening of Disney movie

Friends plea as AGM date nears
THE Friends of Etching Hill hosts its AGM next month – and a plea has gone out for anyone wishing to join the committee.

The AGM is at the Church of the Holy Spirit in Mount Road, from 7.30pm on Thursday, May 22.

A litter pick, organised by the group takes place on Saturday, June 21. Participants should meet at the church at 11am for an hour-long tidy-up. Equipment will be provided and refreshments will follow.

Treat in store as donations made
SAINSBURY'S stores have joined together to collect hundreds of Easter eggs.

Branches in Cannock and Penkridge donated the gifts to Stafford Women's Aid centre and to children on the Shugborough ward at Stafford Hospital.

The stores held an Easter egg collection and supermarket spokesman Paul Davis said: "We are always looking for ways we can support the community and we hope the donation helps provide them with a nice Easter treat."

Rambling group is at the double

CHASE & District Group Ramblers meet for an easy nine-mile walk in Abbots Bromley/Marchington Woodlands on Sunday (April 27). Departure time is Hednesford Rail station car park, Anglesey Street at 9am.

They follow that with an easy five-mile ramble at Chasewater on Wednesday, April 30, meeting at the Innovation Centre car park at 7pm.

Musicians give church concert

CHURCHGOERS can spring into summer with a concert in Breton.

Phil & Bruce of Blue Serge perform at St Michael's, Main Road, from 7.30pm on May 19.

Admission is £3, concessionary for children, including light refreshments. Tickets are available at the church, on the door or on 0870 147069.

Easter fun zone

AN Easter fun zone takes place today (Thursday) for the Teenage Cancer Trust. It is at Emmanuel Church at Sankey's Corner, Burntwood from 2.30pm and will feature a bouncy castle, games and a barbecue.

CCG goes more than £9m over its budget

HEALTH bosses are set to go more than £17 million over budget this year – and will have to explain why to the Government.

Two clinical commissioning groups facing the huge overspend will be referred to the Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt.

And they have been told to draw up a plan proving they can pay back the cash and work within budget next year. If they can't they will go back before Mr Hunt again.

The Cannock Chase and Stafford & Surrounds CCGs – groups of GPs which decide what services should be provided – will breach the NHS Act by going so far over budget this year.

For 2013/14, Cannock Chase CCG is forecasting an overspend of £9.2m against its limit of £151.791m and Stafford and Surrounds CCG will go £8.1m over its £158.47m limit.

Bosses say they have been hit by increased pressures on services from rising numbers of patients and reductions in funding.

A report by the CCGs' chief officer Andrew Donald says: "The overspend will need to be repaid and this must be factored into financial plans for future years."

Patience call on roadworks

DRIVERS are being warned of delays when a long-awaited £2 million revamp of a set of traffic islands finally gets under way.

Work at the busy Churchbridge Interchange, in Cannock, linking the A5, M6 Toll, A460 and the A34, will begin at the end of May and is expected to cause long delays.

Residents are being asked to be patient.

Cannock Council leader George Adamson said: "I'm glad the work will be starting soon. Although it will cause delays, the work needs to be done."

Music in the air

STAFFORD Grammar School Concert Band joins the Rugeley Academies' Vocal Ensemble for a concert to aid the Alzheimer's Society. They perform 'Music In The Air' at Lea Hall Social Club, Sandy Lane, on Friday, May 2 at 7pm. Cost is £3 on the door. Call 01889 578680.

Hundreds expected at memorial dedication

THE DEDICATION of the third phase of the miners' memorial in Hednesford takes place this weekend.

A further 913 named bricks, remembering those who worked in the Cannock Chase coalfields, have been laid around the grass areas by the clock tower in the town centre and adjacent to the iconic Davy Lamp.

All those who have bought a brick have been invited to Saturday's dedication, which is open to the general public. It is hoped that hundreds will turn up.

The service, to be led by the Rt Rev Nigel McCulloch, KCVO, takes place at 2pm and will last for around 40 minutes.

Rugeley Power Station Band will perform, while Cannock Chase Orpheus Male choir will sing, among other things, the miners' hymn, 'Take Me Home'. Local man, lay preacher and past miner Jim Bullock will be taking part as will Deputy Lieutenant of Staffordshire Mr Anthony Winterton.

Market Street will be closed to traffic from noon. Members of the Chase Arts in Public Spaces (Chaps) committee and Hednesford Lions Club will be acting as stewards and handing out Order of Service sheets, which families will be able to keep as a memento.

Inserts

After the service, copies of the book "A Lasting Tribute" will be on sale at £5 per copy with inserts containing the names of all included in this latest phase. These will be sold from the large room at the rear of

Owner is given dog ban after separate attacks

A DOG OWNER has been given a suspended jail sentence and banned from keeping dogs for 10 years.

A destruction order for the Staffordshire Bull Terrier, named Snatch, was imposed at Cannock Magistrates Court and owner Karl Jones, aged 31, was also banned from keeping a dog for 10 years.

The court heard two people were bitten by the animal in separate attacks just months apart. The dog injured a paramedic and neighbour, with both treated in hospital for their injuries.

Jones was convicted of being the owner of a dog dangerously out of control and was ordered to pay compensation worth a combined £900.

Communal

Jones, of Barnard Way, Cannock, was found guilty following two separate trials, but has lodged an immediate appeal. This included 12 weeks imprisonment suspended by one year.

The court was told how the pet had lunged towards Jessica Hyden as she tried to leave her flat into the communal area of Jones' block. It was said that Snatch, who has been taken by police, had jumped into her property grabbing at her leg.

After shaking him off he then came back and grabbed her hand with his mouth.

Ms Hyden was left bleeding and suffered puncture wounds to her leg and been left with and scarring to her wrist. She was taken to Walsall Manor Hospital wafter the November attack on November 12 last year.

by Craig Hughes

The hearing was told her partner had intervened but there had been no reaction from Jones. He denied a charge of being the owner of a dog which entered an address that was not a public place and caused injury but was convicted.

Mr Chris Stapleton, defending, said the dog had feared for its own safety after Ms Hyden had been pushed into him following a domestic argument. He told magistrates that Jones had taken on the dog after it was mistreated by a previous owner and was prepared to keep it muzzled.

A previous trial was told how ambulance worker Andrew Hopwood was bitten on the wrist while tending to Mr Jones who was found collapsed in a park last September.

Jones had denied a charge of being the owner of a dog allowing it to be dangerously out of control in public.

Bag pack cash flies in

SHOPPERS donated more than £750 when the Cannock branch of the Royal Air Force held a bag pack at Sainsbury's. Money raised from the collection at the Orbital Way store will go towards the RAF Wings Appeal. It will be used for a variety of projects including providing welfare officers, assistance to widows and widowers, and even story books for children. Wings organiser Joan Oulaghan said: "We are absolutely delighted."

Sophie Hunter, Francesca Breeze and Molly Flint, rehearse for 'Me and My Girl'

Dramatic society in an appeal for props

A DRAMA group has put out a plea for two striped deckchairs and an old-fashioned wicker wheelchair.

Cannock Chase Drama Society want the items for a period production of Me And My Girl.

The popular show is being staged at The Prince of Wales Centre from September 10-13 and organisers are having trouble getting their hands on some of the props.

Julie Hunter, who is directing and choreographing the show, has made the appeal.

She said: "You just don't see the old-style wood-framed deckchairs anymore."

"The show is set in the 1930s when traditional striped deckchairs were everywhere."

"But it's proving difficult to locate one now, as with the wicker wheelchair."

Around 35 cast and backstage hands will be taking part in the run, with the youngest being just seven.

The show includes the songs Lambeth Walk, The Sun Has Got His Hat On, Leaning On The Lamp Post and Me and My Girl.

Anyone who can help is asked to call 07968 757820 and leave a message. Tickets can be obtained on 01543 578762.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

ONE report this week shows Britain has fewer hospital beds than most European countries. Another report reveals that one patient in 16 picks up an infection in hospital. So even if we had more NHS beds, who'd want to stay in them?

IT IS claimed that the number of food parcels given away by food banks is rising towards one million. They have grown under the Coalition, just as they did under the last Labour government. They will continue to grow under whichever party forms the next government. Food banks are part of the 21st century political landscape and it is almost impossible to question their motives or their value without sounding hard-hearted. For the Tories, the only credible and acceptable response to food banks is to embrace them as part of the Big Society, to acknowledge that no welfare system will ever be 100 per cent efficient and to congratulate people who give their time and efforts to help those who slip through the welfare net. As long as cash and food donations are given to food banks freely by individuals and companies, no-one should object. And if Labour politicians are daft enough to brandish the rise of food banks as a club to whack the Tories, what will they be saying in 2020 when Labour has been in power for five years and the food banks are just about to hand over their two millionth parcel?

THE Daily Mirror used a poignant front-page picture of a sobbing child to illustrate the desperation of families using food banks. It now emerges that the picture was taken years ago. The child is an American kid, the daughter of a photographer, who had been upset by losing an earthworm. There was absolutely no connection between this anguished child and food banks. Does it matter? I hope not. Newspapers and magazines tend to use generic, unidentified images when it would be wrong to identify an individual. I once worked on a paper whose photo library included an image of an old lady reading by the light of a candle. We used that image time after time to illustrate features on everything from loneliness in old age to burglary, adult literacy, dementia and power cuts.

A FRIEND'S car wouldn't start. We left it a while and tried again, with the accelerator fully depressed. It started first time. Conclusion: the engine was flooded. Later, the car wouldn't start again. We removed the filler cap. It started first time. Conclusion: it was starved of petrol by a vacuum in the fuel tank. A few hours later the car broke down and even the AA couldn't fix it. Conclusion: It's a car. Cars have minds of their own. Especially if there's a bank holiday coming.

THIS week's Marine Conservation Society report goes into ecstasies about the superb water quality at hundreds of British beaches. But those measurements were taken last year during an unusually long dry spell. After this winter's deluge, with rivers raging, cesspits overflowing and half of Somerset knee-deep in liquid sewage for weeks on end, anyone care for a paddle?

TAKE a look around at your fellow Brits as the holiday season begins and the flesh goes on display. Do we look like a nation following healthy-eating advice? Or do we look more like a collection of beached whales, occasionally dragging ourselves to the hot-dog stand for another cholesterol fix? If you believe research published yesterday, a drop in the number of heart attacks and strokes is linked to a 15 per cent reduction in the amount of salt Brits consume. But isn't it far more likely to be the result of a massive NHS programme? Over the past 20 years millions of Brits have been diagnosed with high blood pressure by their GPs and given pressure-reducing pills. I bet that's having far more effect than any alleged change of diet. For the time being, I will take the salt connection with a pinch of, er, pepper.

Remembrance site's 300th monument

A MEMORIAL to mark the 75th anniversary of the first naval battle of the Second World has been unveiled at the National Memorial Arboretum in Staffordshire.

The monument, commemorating the Battle of River Plate, is the 300th memorial to be added at the Alrewas site.

The memorial will be a lasting tribute to those who lost their lives in the battle and to the three allied ships which fought there - HMS Ajax, Exeter and Achilles - together with all those who lost their lives during the Second World War.

The battle took place in the South Atlantic on December 13, 1939. It was the first major naval battle of the war and the only one to take place in South America.

Peter Danks, secretary of the HMS Ajax and River Plate Veterans' Association, said: "We are very proud to have unveiled our memorial which will ensure that all who took part in the Battle of the River Plate will be remembered always.

"The fact that it's the 300th memorial to be dedicated at this wonderful place has given our ceremony even greater significance."

National Memorial Arboretum

managing director Sarah Montgomery said: "Reaching the 300th memorial milestone is very important and illustrates the ever growing significance of the National Memorial Arboretum."

The arboretum is part of The Royal British Legion family of charities and houses memorials to the military, civil services, local organisations and overseas organisations.

Talks in the air as smells blight area

FARMERS have been banned from using fertiliser that comes from a controversial waste plant because of complaints from residents about foul smells.

Answers are being demanded about the Biffa anaerobic digester and adjoining landfill site in Cannock following fears among householders that the company that runs the site may remain for there least another 20 years.

Scrutiny chiefs are calling on the company to give an estimated date for the firm's departure from the Poplars site.

In a wider crackdown on bad smells, they are also writing to Severn Trent Water about its treatment works in Longford Road asking for regular meetings.

Quality

Cannock Chase Council wants to set up a liaison committee with the company to discuss any complaints arising from operations affecting residents on the nearby Mosswood estate.

The two companies are among a string of businesses that have been called to task by the authority over the air quality in Cannock.

Protests about a stink at Biffa were received from neighbours late last year after farmers started using digestate from the plant, which breaks down food-stuffs and other organic matter, as fertiliser on their fields. The practice was stopped after intervention by the environmental health department.

Digger makers JCB, which has a plant at Rugeley, and major car components firm Tallent Gestamp, on Wolverhampton Road, Cannock, both have environmental permits, giving the council greater control over their emissions output.

Casting plant Norton Aluminium, which generated several complaints, has now moved out of the district and Augear's treatment unit in Walkmill Lane, Bridgtown, has changed from processing to mainly storage.

Councillor John Kraujalis, scrutiny chairman, said: "I'm very pleased with the response of some firms, like Tallent, who are very proactive on this issue but it concerns me that others are not."

"We may want the jobs that industry brings but not at the expense of the quality of people's lives. It's a very fine line that has to be drawn."

Cyclist saved by helmet

A CYCLIST has his helmet to thank for averting a head injury after he came off his bike on Cannock Chase.

Emergency crews were called to the Monkey Trail just after 9am on Saturday, April 19. An Ambulance Service spokesman said the cyclist, a man in his 30s, suffered shoulder and rib injuries. He added there was a significant crack to the rider's helmet and had he not been wearing it, the damage would have been to his head.

The rider was given anti-sickness drugs for nausea and administered pain relief before being immobilised and flown to Royal Derby Hospital.

In training for Moonwalk

A GROUP of women are raising thousands of pounds by walking 26.2 miles for a good cause - and satisfying a personal ambition at the same time.

"I've always wanted to do a marathon," said Toni-Ann Bywater, of Hatherton Road, Cannock. "I don't think I'll be able to run one now but walking is the next best thing."

The 52-year-old is taking part in next month's MoonWalk in London with three friends. The event, which starts and finishes at Clapham Common, raises money for breast cancer charities. All participants wear their bras as a 'uniform'.

Toni-Ann, who will be taking part with Laura Matthews, 39, Laura's mother Judy Doherty, 64, and Emma Pegg, 37, said: "My sister-in-law had breast cancer so it's a cause very dear to my heart but it was Judy's idea to do the MoonWalk. We're expecting to finish it in around eight hours."

A live music charity evening raised £2,552 towards the cause and they are hoping to hold more.

Cash left over for gritting of car parks

CAR parks in Cannock Chase District will continue to be gritted this year - after a milder winter mean cash was left over.

The six car parks will be treated this winter as council bosses have money available.

The sites in Chadsmoor, Heath Hayes and Norton Canes were gritted only 37 times in 2013/14 compared to 92 the year before.

Bosses only budgeted to grit the car parks last year but say the warmer temperatures mean they can now carry the service over to the coming year.

Head of housing and waste management Ian Tennant said: "Additional funding would be required if severe weather conditions occur frequently during the winters of 2014-15 or future years."

It comes after a pilot scheme was held last winter which saw town centre car parks and bus stations gritted for the first time.

A county-wide Ice Busters scheme has also been launched, aimed at parish councils and residents' associations who are able to mobilise dedicated volunteers to treat the pathways during periods of prolonged cold weather and clear snow over the winter.

End of an era for instructor

A GYM instructor has retired after 30 years working at Burntwood Leisure Centre.

Carol Walker, aged 71, began work at the High Street centre in Chasetown, as an aerobics instructor in 1984. Over the years she built up a reputation for her energetic and fun classes, and brought in record numbers of people to her weekly 50-plus class.

She said: "It's the end of an era for me. I will miss everyone."

Neil Turner, Lichfield District Council's director for leisure and parks, said: "Carol is a much valued member of the team and will be greatly missed by staff and leisure centre users."

Annual meeting

RESIDENTS in Burntwood are invited to the annual town meeting on Thursday, May 8. It takes place at the library, at Sankeys Corner from 7pm.

Vets want pet shots for charity calendar

ANIMAL lovers are being asked to send in photos of their pets for a fundraising calendar.

The 387 Veterinary Centre in Great Wyrley hopes the project will raise vital funds for the Cinnamon Trust. The Walsall Road practice has already raised more than £120 this month from a staff home-baking sale.

Practice manager Rachel Duncan said: "National Pet Month runs from April 1 to May 5 and as well promoting responsible pet ownership, the initiative also encourages people to raise valuable funds for animal charities."

"As this year's theme is celebrating our pets, we thought we would combine celebration and fundraising in the form of a 12-month desk top calendar."

"We're asking owners to submit good quality cute, quirky or action shots of their pets along with a brief paragraph stating what it is they love most about them. At the end of National Pet Month, 12 entries will be selected for our first ever pet calendar, which will go on sale later this summer."

Photos accompanied by no more than 100 words should be sent to feedback@387vets.com

Interest rates move backed

A DECISION to keep interest rates at a record low of 0.5 per cent for another month has been welcomed by business chiefs.

Chris Plant, director of Cannock Chase Chamber of Commerce, said: "Existing calls from some quarters for an early rate rise risk unsettling business plans for higher investment."

He added the bank could step up its support to growing businesses. "Access to finance remains a key issue in achieving a sustainable recovery, and the Bank could play a key role in rectifying this gap."

Free pet service

PETS can be microchipped at South Staffordshire College's Rodbaston Campus this weekend. The service is being offered, in conjunction with the RSPCA, from noon to 3pm on Sunday, April 27. Although free, owners will be asked to make a donation towards the costs.

Cheers – Burley pulls pint at new-look pub

Aidan Burley MP, Marie Bell and Steve Barnes, Stuart Plant and Andy Crump, regional operations director

CANNOCK Chase Aidan Burley MP raised a glass to the reopening of a Rugeley pub.

The MP visited the Horns at Slitting Mill to celebrate its re-launch following a £350,000 makeover.

The Punch Taverns-owned pub is run by Steve and Marie Bell, who took the MP on a tour of the premises and invited him behind the bar to pull a pint.

Mr Burley said: "I was pleased to be able to celebrate the re-opening of the Horns Inn and with it the creation of 20 new jobs and the potential for even more."

"Pubs such as the Horns Inn are an important part of our local community and so it is great to see this investment which is a boost for the town and the local economy and all adds to the appeal of Cannock Chase as a tourist destination."

"I thoroughly enjoyed my visit to such a well-run community pub, it's warm and welcoming and a pub Rugeley can be proud of."

Marie was delighted with the pub's positive start: "The launch was really successful and we have been overwhelmed by the positive feedback," she said.

"It's great to see a local MP supporting the pub industry. We've got some great plans for the pub."

Stuart Plant, Punch Taverns' Senior Partnership Development Manager for the Horns, said: "The Horns is a great example of a pub at the heart of the community that also plays an important part for tourists visiting Cannock Chase."

MPs to rebel on HS2 as hundreds set for protest

HUNDREDS of protesters are to descend on Westminster for a second time to demonstrate against HS2.

The protest comes on the day the controversial project is voted on in Parliament. Tory MPs in Staffordshire are set to break ranks with David Cameron and lead a rebellion against the high-speed rail line at the crunch vote on Monday (April 28).

Campaigners from Staffordshire will join action groups from around the country to rally against the £50 billion scheme.

MPs are due to debate the project late into night for the second reading of the legislation.

Despite the public backlash it is thought a large majority of MPs will support the project. However, dozens of Tory MPs are expected to rebel with Lichfield's Michael Fabricant leading opposition Jeremy Lefroy of Stafford and Bill Cash representing Stone.

Campaigners will wave placards outside of Parliament before lobbying MPs before the debate.

Staffordshire Against HS2 chairman Trevor Forrester will travel to the capital along with other residents from the county affected by the 225mph line.

He said: "This will be a very important day – if not the most important so far."

"We are continuing to rigorously defend Staffordshire from the wreckage of HS2."

Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin has maintained the project is essential to meet increasing demands on the rail network.

Because of delays a final vote will now not be taken until after next year's General Election.

Pupils clean up after shelter graffiti

Year 6 pupils from Bridgtown primary join teacher Sarah Buzzard, Insp Paul Cooke, environmental health officer Jennifer Sheffield and anti-social behaviour co-ordinator Val Pottinger

SCHOOLCHILDREN helped to spruce up two bus shelters outside their school after they were defaced with offensive graffiti.

Pupils at Bridgtown Primary School worked with Cannock Chase District Council to design new vinyl coverings for the shelters.

The children from the North Street school were invited to take part after writing to the council to complain. They contributed balloons and leaves which were embedded into the design.

The council's environmental health team worked with Staffordshire Police on the project, part of the Love Where You Live initiative.

Mike Walker, environmental protection manager, said: "The children have worked really hard to improve the appearance of the bus shelters"

Letters

Teacher Sarah Buzzard said the children were delighted with the council's response to their letters of complaint. "They can see the impact of their actions in the fantastic visual artwork on the bus shelters," she said.

Inspector Paul Cooke, of Cannock Police, added "Criminal damage has had a negative impact on the community and this has been a great way of solving a local environmental issue. The schoolchildren should be extremely proud."

The youngsters were presented with certificates from the council chairman as a thank you.

NEWS in brief

Stall offered to promote causes

A CHARITY market for people to highlight their good causes is being organised in Rugeley.

The event at Wolseley Bridge Garden Centre will be held on June 14 and 15. Rugeley Lions are seeking charities who wish to have a stall and give out information on their work.

President Tim Burgin said: "The idea is to let people learn more about their work and raise funds."

Stalls are free but places are limited. Email rugeleylions@yahoo.co.uk

Drugs found in raid on property

POLICE uncovered a large cannabis factory during a raid in Rugeley.

Scores of plants were discovered at a property in Horse Fair last Wednesday, April 16.

Officers swooped on the property at 3.15am as part of Operation Nemesis.

Chief Inspector Steve Morrey said: "Operation Nemesis continues to display Staffordshire Police's commitment to tackling drug dealers and our determination to bring them to justice."

Church events include tea party

A RUGELEY church committee has organised a number of social events.

They include a summer tea party and prize draw on July 5 at St John the Baptist, Slitting Mill and a barn dance on July 11.

A coffee morning takes place on Wednesday, May 7 from 10.30am.

The £2 admission includes a hot drink, cake or biscuits, a raffle, bric-a-brac and card stalls.

Transport plea on Charter Fair

A PRIMARY school in Rugeley is appealing for a vehicle to use in this year's Charter Fair parade.

Chancel Primary in Wolseley Road is in need of a vehicle to transport 20 of its children and staff on Saturday, June 7.

The theme for this year's fair is the centenary of the First World War. To help, call 01889 256137.

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

SO after years of being told to cut down on our drinking, at last there's an expert who has come up with some advice we can all raise a glass to.

Dr Kari Poikalainen, who used to work for the World Health Organisation now says its okay to drink six pints a day.

Or if beer's not your bag, a full bottle of wine is all right too.

He says 'moderate' drinking is better for your health than abstinence, which in itself is probably not that controversial. But it is his definition of moderation which might raise one or two eyebrows.

Apparently, Dr Poikalainen – try saying that after six pints of Banks's – reckons anything up to 13 units a day should be ok.

To put that into context, the Government's recommended limit is 14 units a week for women, and 21 for men. Or in the traditionally po-faced US, it's 14 units a week full stop. In fact, you may remember a while back they tried stopping anybody from drinking anything at all, and that worked out, didn't it?

Still, Dr Poikalainen has been researching the effects of alcohol for years, something I have no difficulty in believing.

And you have to say, the prospect of joining for a spot of his 'research' does sound rather good fun, doesn't it? You know, ask him nicely, and he might take you on a tour of some of his favourite labs.

Predictably, the anti-drinking establishment has been unimpressed by the Finnish expert's work, with Julia Manning of the think-tank 2020Health, describing his claims as 'an unhelpful contribution to the debate.'

Now I tend to be deeply sceptical of anyone who thinks that jumbling up letters and numerals, with no gap in between, is the hallmark of a modern, progressive organisation.

And I really would like to believe Dr Poikalainen, who of course has a book to sell, but on this occasion I fear Mrs Manning might be right.

My first reaction on reading about Dr Poikalainen's work was that I wished he was my doctor. I mean, who wouldn't want to be told it's okay to live every day like closing-time at Oktoberfest? But having thought about it again, perhaps not.

No doubt, Dr Poikalainen is a very well respected, educated man. I'm sure he has got lots of letters after his name – come to mention it, he's got a fair few letters in his name, hasn't he?

But when push comes to shove, I'm not sure he's the type of man I would want to be brandishing the scalpel during a delicate piece of surgery.

Not after he's been on a 'moderate' drinking session, anyway.

Charity challenge to combat stress

Former Staffords regiment soldiers have gone the extra mile for charity, as SIMON STONE reports

TROOPS have gone the extra mile for charity during their current tour of duty on the front line in Afghanistan's trouble torn Helmand Province.

And the men of the 3rd Battalion the Mercian Regiment – formerly The Staffords – have been matched every step of the way by both their wives at the unit's base in Germany and former comrades back home.

They have taken up the challenge to complete fundraising events that cover an aggregate distance equal to the 4,520 miles that separate Camp Bastion in Helmand to the Kings Head in Lichfield, where the military unit that ultimately morphed into 3Mercian was originally formed in 1705.

Disbanded

The battalion is being disbanded as part of plans to cut the strength of the regular army. Before it ceases to exist in June the soldiers will march to the pub to complete the final mile of the challenge that has raised more than £5,000 for Combat Stress and the Mercian Regiment benevolent fund.

Regiment Quartermaster Sergeant Jason Rollins, a 35-year-old father of one from Rugeley, said: "We were split up at different bases after deploying to Afghanistan and I thought it would be nice to have a common goal since it was the last chance to do something as a battalion representing The Staffords on tour.

"It was a bit of a tongue in cheek suggestion and I am astonished how it took off. We could only do the challenge when operations allowed and so came up with the idea of a crazy mile to keep the lads interested."

A team of 3Mercian soldiers celebrate after completing 1,600 pull ups

The troops carried out 1,600 pull ups, flipped a giant tyre from a Mastiff patrol vehicle and turned their hand to the traditional military sport of 'gun-running' with 14 man teams dragging a near two ton Artillery gun for two miles.

But the real tester came when the men had to complete a mile on a treadmill using just the index and middle fingers of one hand while lying by the machine as the track turned. Lieutenant Ed Watling, commander of the patrol that completed the pull up challenge, said: "The lads really dug deep. They wanted to do the challenge and were keen to do something to raise a bit more money for Combat Stress."

Quartermaster Sergeant Rollins added: "The lads do fitness work all the time and so it was easy for them to chalk up the miles. Then the wives got to hear about what was going on and decided that anything we could do they could do better.

"Next thing I knew members of the Staffordshire Regiment Association back home were joining in too."

The wives have completed such events as sponsored swims and a 10-hour bike ride while the Staffordshire Regiment Association has undertaken challenges from 10 kilometre extreme runs, through mountain climbing and extreme cross country events to rounds of golf to cover the mileage with members completing an average 904 miles a month.

Dave Gouldingay from its Lichfield Branch said the death of 3Mercian Company Sgt Major Ian Fisher in a suicide bomb attack during the current tour had added poignancy to the efforts.

Meanwhile, would-be soldiers can start cashing in on the reorganisation of the British Army this summer.

People wanting to join the Army Reserve, formally the Territorial Army, have the chance to realise their dream and earn £500-a-week in the process.

Incentives

The annual Midland Challenge event is set to be staged in the area for the sixth year running but this will be the first time those taking part will benefit from a new set of financial incentives.

These were introduced by the Government amid plans to boost the national strength of the Army Reserve from 19,000 to 30,000 by 2020 while the regular army is cut by 20,000.

The Midland Challenge, that starts in July, allows training that would normally take a member of the Army Reserve up to one and a half years to complete, to be finished in six weeks.

Recruits receive £300 when they sign on, £1,000 when they complete phase one of the training and a further £1,000 after finishing the second element.

The also get paid £35-a-day as their Army Reserve pay that means they could earn £3,700 if they pass the six week course, the equivalent of over £500-a-week. The daily rate rises to £43 after completion.

Anybody interested should contact their local army reserve centre or e-mail their details to 4merc-bhq-roso@mod.uk

POLITICS

WITH DANIEL WAINWRIGHT

CRISIS? What crisis? Apparently Ed Miliband's cost-of-living crisis is over, if it ever existed at all.

That's the argument advanced by the Chancellor and Tory MPs as they claim 'compelling evidence' that the economic strategy is working.

Wages are growing faster than inflation, unemployment is down and house sales (not to mention prices) are up. So why the growth in food bank use then?

People who want to claim politicians are all just the same might want to look a bit more closely.

As Parliament went into recess, MPs were suggesting a very different picture of Britain's progress.

Gavin Williamson, the always friendly and cheerful MP for South Staffordshire, says 83,000 more people are in work since the Tories didn't quite come to power.

"That means 83,000 more hard-working people bringing home a regular pay packet, giving them and their family more financial security for the future," he said.

Labour has a very different view of the 'secure future' we are embarking on.

Dudley MP Ian Austin says a record 93,461 people used West Midlands food banks in the last year, including 35,425 children. He suggests 'thousands of families in the West Midlands face a cost-of-living crisis and the benefits system is in chaos'.

Those figures are from the Trussell Trust charity. And the Government thinks they might be making a rod for their own back.

An unnamed spokesman for the Department for Work and Pensions said: "Even the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development says there are fewer people struggling with their food bills compared with a few years ago, benefit processing times are improving and the Trussell Trust's own research recognises the effect their marketing activity has on the growth of their business."

It comes down to your point of view. Fewer people struggle with food bills, but food bank use has grown.

□□□□□□

Wolverhampton MP Pat McCadden made some remarks in a broadcast interview this week that he wants a Labour party that 'takes wealth creation every bit as seriously as its fair distribution'. The remarks were seized upon by some of the national papers as a sign that he did not think his party leadership had a workable economic plan.

In fact the Blairite MP for Wolverhampton South East's views on this are well known. What were not picked up were his concerns over the prospect of Britain leaving the European Union. He calls the possibility the 'biggest economic threat facing the country'.

Dramatic win as theatre group takes top prize

Backstreet Theatre Company members celebrate their NODA award for best musical

AN AMBITIOUS local theatre group can now call itself award-winning after landing a top prize.

Backstreet Theatre Company, who set up in 2010, won the NODA Regional Production Award – one of the top accolades in amateur theatre – for the Best Musical.

It was awarded to the group for its production of Jekyll & Hyde, which was performed at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock last year.

The award is given by NODA (National Operatic and Dramatic Association) to the outstanding show in each region. Backstreet were one of three on the shortlist.

Thrilled cast members collected the prize at the annual awards ceremony at Sutton Coldfield Town Hall.

Proud

Group chairman Jo Goulding said: "We were absolutely delighted to win. We only joined NODA this year, so to pick up an award like this is amazing."

"Jekyll & Hyde was our biggest show to date and we were really proud of it, but to have it recognised in this way really puts the icing on the cake."

The famous tale of a man with two conflicting personalities was a difficult one to stage with leading man, Adam Robinson often having to flip from one to the other mid-song. The group even hired the professional set used in the touring musical starring Marti Pellow, complete with pyrotechnics.

Backstreet are already well into preparations for their next show – Our House, the Madness musical – which is at the Prince of Wales from September 4 to 6 at 7.30pm.

Tickets are available at £12 or £10, from positickets.co.uk or from the Church Street theatre on 01543 578762.

Contempt towards electorate

KARL Newman suggests (Letters April 3) a vote for UKIP will let Labour in but ignores the reason for UKIP successes, the contempt with which established politicians treat the electorate.

We will not get a vote from Miliband and however much manure is dumped on us from Brussels the Liberals say we cannot be trusted to give the answer that they want.

The Tories promised a referendum and then reneged. Now they say we might eventually, perhaps in 2017 get a chance to decide whether we want to continue being ripped off, but only after the PM has renegotiated the terms of our membership.

Of 28 EU members which is going to vote for receiving less of our money? EU commissioners have already said no to renegotiation. Cameron doesn't have a hope and will never campaign for us to leave the EU.

Near misses blamed on poor lane discipline

FOLLOWING your report on the junction of Pye Green Road and Cemetery Road (Chronicle, April 10). I had a near miss there when turning right.

Another car facing me was also indicating a right turn. The lights went green and I moved slowly forward expecting to pass the other vehicle as we both turned, except he came straight ahead, missing me by a coat of paint.

Through my mirror I saw him go along the Pye Green Road with his offside indicator still flashing. Only my quick reaction prevented a crash. Speed cameras would have had no effect. For me, forget speed cameras, they only take your eyes from the road to the dashboard and most of these incidents happen at below 30mph anyway.

Poor lane discipline in the town centre and at the Bridgtown interchange sees many more near misses. Stand at any roadside for a few minutes and count the number of people driving with one hand holding a mobile phone to their ear. Statistical analysis shows the general introduction of speed cameras in 1994 stopped the downward trend of fatalities to the steadfast number we have had ever since.

According to a recent report speed cameras raise £270million in revenue. I feel road safety is a different matter. For road safety go for the three E's of the Alliance of British Drivers, Education - Engineering and Enforcement.

Overall rise of just 19p on pension

I AM now 76 years of age and I have worked all my life until I was 71. I have always paid my taxes, paid my bills and never got into debt.

What do I get in return? Supposedly a £2.62 rise in state pension, minus £2.43 deducted from our pension credit, which over all we are getting between myself and my wife is 19p increase in the state pension.

How can this government afford such a massive increase? Do they know or even care how we try to survive? Of course not. Look after the rich and to hell with the poor - that is their motto. My wife phoned the DWP and was told the deduction on pension credit was based on our income (which by the way is another name for the state pension).

God help us if this government wins the next election. Not with our vote they won't.

Further hardship put on young people

IN response to D A Podmore's letter (April 3), regarding Staffordshire County Council's decision to cut funding for youth centres.

I too am saddened that local Tory politicians are content to heap further hardship on our young people.

Not only are our youngsters expected to put up with a confusing education system that changes by the week, a job market that offers little hope of a permanent job, and a housing market that makes it impossible for first time buyers to get on the ladder, our young people are now facing the prospect of having their youth centre facilities taken away.

I'd like to assure D A Podmore that this decision was opposed by all local Labour councillors, but typically, no-one from the Tory ivory-towers was listening.

COUNCILLOR ANDY LOVELL, Rugeley

Tax increase the only way to protect services

HAVING read Mr Adamson's letter 'No surprise as plans go through' (Chronicle, April 3), I would simply ask how would he budget to save the services?

The only way you could protect all of these services is to increase taxation. Labour, the party he supports, have lost their way. They were then and now fiscally naive. You have to ring fence the essential services.

His quip over some street lighting being turned off between midnight and 5am just shows how short-sighted he is. There are many areas outside the populace that could be targeted and then expanded to retail centres, highways, motorways and such like.

Best school production

MAY I congratulate Year 3 and 4 pupils at West Hill Primary School who put on Aladdin at the end of spring term?

All the principle players were brilliant and the supporting cast and chorus superb. The singing and acting was outstanding, the jokes suitably corny and well delivered.

As a dad and granddad I have witnessed a few school productions down the years but this was without doubt the best. The staff should be very proud of the result.

Mother goes distance in daughter's cancer fight

A MOTHER whose five-year-old daughter is battling cancer has been chosen to spearhead a major nationwide campaign.

Deborah Blakeman, aged 38, of Cheslyn Hay, was named as a year-long 'go the distance ambassador' by Cancer Research UK.

The campaign inspired people to take on their own running challenge and she will be running the 5K Race For Life.

Cancer Research UK has been unveiled as the official partner for the London Marathon in 2015 and to celebrate its special year of running, the charity has appointed 26 inspirational ambassadors, one to represent each mile of the marathon course.

Like Deborah, each ambassador has gone the distance with cancer themselves or has supported a loved one through their cancer journey.

Bubbly

Darcy, a Cheslyn Hay Primary School pupil, was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukaemia in May 2012.

The bubbly five-year-old now has six months left of a two-and-a-half-year chemotherapy regime which has seen her lose her hair, but never her smile.

Deborah, who runs for Wolverhampton and Bilston Athletics Club, feared she was going to lose her daughter when she was first diagnosed.

But she was inspired to sign up for last year's Walsall Race for Life to raise funds for Cancer Research UK.

Now she is part of a unique team which will be rallying communities across the UK to 'go their own distance' for Cancer Research UK by taking up a running challenge this year.

Deborah Blakeman, of Cheslyn Hay, with her daughter Darcy

"Running has always been a passion for me and I have found it a very useful stress-buster during Darcy's illness," said Deborah.

"My dream is to do the London Marathon. But Darcy's illness means I have to be realistic about what I can take on. That's why I'm doing Race for Life for Cancer Research UK," she said.

Deborah, the first to cross the finish line at Walsall Race for Life last year, added: "Cancer Research UK is close to my heart and I am delighted to have been chosen as an ambassador in the charity's very special year of running."

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Talk centres on harmful practice

SOROPTIMISTS

MEMBERS of SI Cannock & District joined members from other clubs within Midland Chase Region to mark International Women's Day on March 8. They held a conference to raise awareness and understanding of Female Genital Mutilation, or FGM.

The event was informative and at times emotional, even harrowing. There were four speakers. Lilli Loveday from "28 Too Many" spoke of the work of the charity in the 28 African countries where FGM is prevalent.

Antonia Bright from Working for Justice gave information on the asylum process in this country - many women escaping their country of birth because of FGM seek asylum here. Carol McCormick spoke of the issue from the perspective of women in the UK and the difficulties they face. She is a midwife and senior practitioner for FGM in Nottingham.

The most emotional speaker was Ugandan Maimuna Jawo, who is currently seeking asylum here. She is 'the cutter' for her tribe at home and wishes to stop the practice.

FGM is a harmful cultural practice with no medical benefits. It has been illegal in this country since 1985.

All clubs within Midland Chase Region will be focusing on this issue over the coming months to raise awareness and to work towards stopping the practice.

Members celebrate club's 27th birthday

LADIES PROBUS

CANNOCK Chase Ladies' Probus Club celebrated its 27th Birthday luncheon at The Barns restaurant.

Chairman Pat Elwell welcomed everyone, including Dulcie Dainty and Betty Bailey who had been absent for many months due to illness, and honorary members Ruth Rastall and Rosemary Knight.

Mrs Elwell congratulated Dora Leighton on her forthcoming 98th birthday. New member Pauline Campbell was inducted.

Mrs Elwell expressed the club's appreciation to Angela Reid who baked and decorated the birthday cake in the shape of a "Book of Memories".

A minute's silence was held in memory of Audrey Critchlow, a founder member and past chairman and secretary who passed away on March 6.

Betty Chapman said Grace. There followed an excellent lunch, after which the chairman proposed the Loyal Toast.

Mrs Elwell introduced guest speaker David Bartley, who made everyone laugh with his Black Country stories and anecdotes. Eileen Cryer gave the vote of thanks.

Regiment's war role relived

LANDOR SOCIETY

STAFFORDSHIRE Soldiers and the Great War was the subject of an illustrated talk by Stephen Booth on March 19.

He described the role played by the Staffordshire Regiment during the war.

By 1915 the numbers of soldiers were running out and there was a massive recruitment campaign. Cannock Chase became the central location for training and camps were built. The 1st South Staffords and 1st North Staffords went to France, distinguishing themselves at the first Battle of Ypres. The first line Territorial Battalions formed parts of the 46th (North Midland) Division and in September 1918 when they crossed the St Quentin Canal to smash through the strongest sector of the Hindenburg Line. Staffs captured Riqueval Bridge, a key event leading to the winning of the war.

Ex-firefighter takes flight for record bid

Richard Foster (right) with his co-pilot Richard Bird at a stop-over in Africa

A FORMER fireman has turned his back on battling blazes to fan the flames of his ambition – by attempting to set a world record in flying.

Richard Foster, from Rugeley, is navigating his way through the skies to South Africa and back in a microlight.

The 35-year-old daredevil has already made it to Cape Town with his co-pilot Richard Bird as part of the Flight of Ikarus challenge.

Their aim is to be the first from the UK to make the 12,500-mile journey without ground support or accompanying aircraft, flying over large stretches of water, desert and jungle with not much more than a Swiss Army Knife and a flask of coffee.

It has taken them a month to complete the first leg, with the pair flying seven hours a day with fuel stops in Egypt, Ethiopia and Sudan. They have now begun the return journey to Goodwood Airfield in London.

The former Fair Oak School pupil, from Kingsley Wood Road, Rugeley, has been keeping friends and family informed of his progress with regular updates on the Flight of Ikarus Facebook page. It is being followed closely by his sister, 37-year-old Laura Barnes, of Finches Hill, Rugeley.

The aviator is also raising money for Oxfam. He now works as a full-time flying instructor based at Goodwood.

Business boom as shed firm lands TV contract

Owner Steve Collis, centre, with staff members Amy Collis, Julie McAree, Jamie Haston, Matt Harris and Mick Cantrill

A BURNTWOOD company boss will get to see the fruits of his labour when his greenhouses and sheds take the spotlight on prime time TV.

Steven Collis has run G E Collis and Sons in Queens Drive, since 2005. He received a call from Silverdale Productions, the company behind BBC2 show The Big Allotment Challenge, last January and was asked to produce 10 identical greenhouses and one shed.

He only had two months to do it – and the buildings had to be transported to Oxford where the programme is filmed.

Mr Collis said: "Two months isn't a long time so it was quite daunting, but we signed the contracts and it wasn't until that point that we realised we were doing the work for the BBC."

"There was a team of six working on the project and they had to keep going to Oxford and back to drop off each bit as it was made."

"The staff were working non-stop, sometimes into the night, so we could be sure they would be finished."

Thousands of pieces of timber and hundreds of pieces of glass had to be cut to create the 10ft by 6ft greenhouses. Slab bases were laid on site and the buildings were installed by fitters in preparation for filming to begin. The show aired for the first time last Tuesday.

Around 20 years ago, Mr Collis, aged 46, appeared on Central News after he sent sheds to Spain and he also built playhouses which were given away as prizes on Family Fortunes.

He said: "The whole company worked hard and showed great team spirit to deliver the order and we were all really happy with the result because a lot of time and effort went in to making them."

Evie May Beddow
Happy 1st birthday to our very special little girl. Love of her family.

Dancers are quick as a flash to promote club

AN unexpected group was behind a flashmob of dancers who took over a city centre square to the delight of passers-by.

The spontaneous seven-minute dance display in Birmingham's Victoria Square was organised by Cannock Rotarians looking to attract new, younger members.

The branch, whose motto is 'If anyone can, Cannock can' was celebrating the 100th anniversary of the British Association of Rotary Clubs which was holding its annual conference in Birmingham.

The flashmob was performed by members of Cannock-based Sandra's School of Dance who were joined by Rotarians for the final 30 seconds.

Outcome

The dancers, who have been in training since January at their base in Chase Grammar School, off St Johns Road, wore Rotary T-shirts for their performance in the Second City.

Rotarian Jamie Bishop, who dreamed up the idea, was delighted by the outcome.

He said: "We got there and cranked the music up to attract interest, timing the performance for the end of the conference at lunchtime so they were able to watch."

"The idea was to raise awareness among a younger generation of Rotarians and what we do."

"We're an ageing club, and that's the general situation around the UK."

"We want younger members and to get rid of the idea that we're some kind of secret organisation."

"The club does a lot of good. When

Sandras Dance School at the flashmob with acting Rotary President Allan Rotchell

I joined I was amazed to find that it had raised £106,000 in the previous six years, and everyone has a great time doing it."

Funds

The branch, which meets at The Barns pub and restaurant in Cocksparrow Lane, Huntington on Wednesday evenings, has helped out the dance school and also supplied the portable cabin that serves as the food bank in Cannock, among other good causes.

Founded in 1935, it has also raised substantial funds for international projects.

Mr Bishop, a 43-year-old director of a plumbing and heating company, praised the dancers.

"We didn't want to devalue what they were doing so we kept out of the way until the end. It was brilliant."

TV characters delight youngsters

Daniel Nash, aged six, gets a guided tour of the town centre with Peppa and George Pig characters

TWO popular children's characters delighted youngsters in Cannock last weekend.

Cannock Shopping Centre played host to a special programme of Easter events – and children were able to meet Peppa Pig and her brother George on Saturday (April 19).

A free Easter themed arts and crafts workshop encouraged the little ones to make their very own bunnies, butterflies, chicks and cards. During half-term, the Variety Shopping Centre hosted an Easter egg colouring competition with Peppa Pig and George selecting the winning entries, who all won shopping vouchers and a large egg.

Natal Chapman, Cannock Shopping Centre manager, said: "We were absolutely delighted to see our Easter entertainment proving to be so popular."

Suspended term for fraud

A CARE home supervisor swindled vulnerable people that she should have been looking after out of £2,000.

Joy Turner, of Leasowe Road, Rugeley, faked receipts, made up bogus car journeys and forged the signatures of colleagues to verify expenditure.

Turner was Head of Houses at the Langston Care home in Rugeley when, over a period of about five months, she pocketed a total of £2,170, most of it belonging to five residents, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Turner, aged 52, admitted three charges of fraud and was given a four month sentence suspended for a year and ordered to do 100 hours unpaid community work.

She was ordered to pay £2,170 compensation at the rate of £100 a month.

Miss Cathlyn Orchard, prosecuting, said Turner started work there in May 2004 until she was sacked in February 2012. The home looked after adults with behavioural difficulties, unable to manage their own financial affairs, and needing 24-hour, one-to-one care.

Relatives and guardians paid money into residents' accounts for personal purchases and incidental expenses.

The bank cards and PINs were kept in a safe and Turner was the only person with access to it.

One of her jobs was to ensure residents' purses were kept topped up with cash. In fact, she was stealing money from five accounts. Turner also charged the residents for purchases and for journeys they never made.

Miss Orchard said the residents had been reimbursed by the care home.

In mitigation, Mr Rashad Mohamed said Turner had got in to financial difficulties. He said Turner now had a job in a distribution centre and was able to pay compensation.

TALENTED dancers won several top titles at the All Star Championships in Wales. Class One Dance Academy, which meets at St Peter's School in Hednesford, were among those competing at the annual contest in Pwllheli.

Among the main trophy winners were 21-year-old Charlie Eccleshall, from Hednesford, who was crowned the Adult Premier Champion, Evie Quinn, aged nine, who lifted the Under-9s starters' trophy and 10-year-old Katie Hardiman, who won the Under 10s beginners' section. Kyle Neville, aged 11, was named street dance champion.

Charlie Eccleshall and Lauren Quinn, 19, won the adults rock 'n' roll, Katie Hardiman and Ebony Johnson, aged eight, were joint winners of the fast pairs beginners' and Mia Boxall and Ebony Tranter, both 11, won the pairs.

Ivy House decision on ice

THE future of Cannock's historic Ivy House still hangs in the balance after councillors deferred a decision on development plans.

The former workhouse and hospital building, in Wolverhampton Road, dates back to 1870 and could be demolished to make way for housing.

The proposals for six two-bedroom houses, six three-bed homes were changed at a planning meeting last week. They will, if approved, become 12-three bedroom homes as well as four single-bed flats.

Contribution

But Cannock Chase Council's planning control committee deferred the decision for further negotiations over a section 106 financial contribution.

Developers Wrekin Housing would contribute more than £66,000 to the area if consent is granted.

However, Labour's Parliamentary candidate Janos Toth is opposed to the plans.

He said: "I am backing residents to keep The Ivy House and it should not be demolished."

"Residents have been left at the peril of property developers."

"It is important that residents who signed a 1,000 plus strong petition are backed in their campaign. The property developer should not be allowed to bulldoze this demolition through."

Walking group for mother and baby

Jean Spraggett, Esther Allen and baby Rosie with Shevonne Hodson-Walker and baby Benjamin Winwood
A NEW mother and baby walking group has been set up. Chasewater Strollers is the brainchild of friends Esther Allen, aged 31, and Shevonne Hodson-Walker, 30, who both gave birth in December.

The sessions, which take place around Chasewater, are open to women with babies and toddlers.

Miss Allen, from Burntwood, said: "We set up the group after we realised there were no groups for mothers and babies to get active."

"The purpose of the group is to increase fitness, make new friends and gain support while enjoying the fresh air and beauty of Chasewater."

The club meets every Monday at 9.30am at the Innovation Centre in Chasewater Country Park.

The group will walk three miles in under one hour at a medium pace and intend to walk in all weather conditions.

Miss Allen added: "We are a friendly group and you will be made very welcome. Walking with a baby or toddler is great for them as well and exercising outdoors is great for your physical and mental health."

For more information email chasewaterstrollers@outlook.com or call 01543 370737.

Drop in the number of jobseeker's claimants

THE number of people claiming jobseekers allowance across Staffordshire has fallen, new figures show.

Across the county the claimant count stood at 9,528 in March, down a hefty 817 from February. MPs across the county welcomed the fall but said there was still a way to go.

In Cannock Chase the number of people claiming fell by 114 to 1,427, or 1.8 per cent, while in South Staffordshire it was down by 91 to 1,122 or 1.8 per cent. In Lichfield it dropped by 72 to 854 or 1.4 per cent.

Priority

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley said: "Creating jobs and improving training opportunities has been my number one priority so news that unemployment in Cannock Chase is continuing to fall is especially encouraging."

"Despite this, I am not complacent."

"There is still much to do and I will continue to do all I can locally to bring more businesses and jobs to Cannock Chase and to offer better training opportunities."

"Nationally these strong

by Laura Blyth

jobs numbers are also very good news."

Stafford's claimant count dropped by 105 from the previous month to 1,191 or 1.4 per cent of the working population - less than half the national average claimant rate of 2.9 per cent.

Across the country, the numbers claiming jobseeker's allowance fell by 30,400 in March to 1.14 million, the 17th consecutive monthly reduction according to the Office for National Statistics.

Nationwide employment has increased by 691,000 over the past year, giving a rate of 72.6 per cent, the best for six years, with a record 30.3 million people in work.

Cheque presented to tragic Thomas' parents

Parents Andrew and Emma and coaches Steve Earp and Tony Hardwick with the cheque

THE parents of a boy who died suddenly from meningitis on his 13th birthday have been handed a cheque for more than £3,000.

A fundraising football match in memory of talented player Thomas Smith from Hednesford was held last month.

Hundreds of supporters turned out for the fundraising game between Chasetown Scholars under-14s and Walsall FC under-14s and a cheque for £3,255 was handed over to Thomas's parents Andy and Emma before Chasetown FC's home game last Saturday. The money will go to the charity Meningitis Now.

Thomas's former football coach Tony Hardwick at Chasetown Scholars organised the match. He said: "We were so pleased by how much money was raised. We'll be organising other fundraisers in the future."

A fundraising football tournament in Thomas's memory is being held on June 14 at the playing fields off Cooksey Lane in Kingstanding.

Thomas died during a trip to Wales in May last year.

Rock Dogs in concert

LOCAL modern indie rock band The Rock Dogs will be playing live at Bojollys in Rugeley tomorrow night (Friday) followed on Saturday (April 26) by a gig at The Talbot in Heath Hayes. The band plays covers from kings of Leon, Foo Fighters, Maroon 5 and the Stereophonics among others. Entry is free and the music starts at 9pm.

Oil poured on bowling green in third attack

VANDALS have poured motorbike oil onto a village bowling green, the third attack on the grass in the last 12 months.

Members of Littleton Colliery Bowls Club in Huntington were left disgusted and appalled after the green was targeted on the night of Monday night, April 14.

The club recently started its new season but chairman Paul Kelly said the attack had left part of the ground unplayable.

He said: "It is absolutely disgusting. The ground is one of the Midlands' top greens so I don't know why someone would do this.

"We haven't done anything to offend anyone, but maybe someone has a grudge against us and that is why it keeps happening. It must be the same person targeting us because it is the same thing every time.

"Oil is the worst thing you can put on a green, other than weedkiller. Whoever did this knew what they were doing."

Appeal

The bowling club boasts around 60 members, including many retired miners from the former Littleton Colliery and the green often plays host to league matches.

It has been running for 100 years and was targeted in April last year and again in August.

The club launched an appeal offering a £400 reward to anyone who helped catch the culprit but nobody came forward.

Philip Guest, aged 68 from Hedgesford, has been a member of the club for more than 40 years.

He said: "There are five teams who play here three days a week but because of this mess part of the green has had to be cordoned off.

"Now instead of playing bowls we are going to have Club chairman Paul Kelly to spend our time cleaning up the oil which just isn't fair.

"The new season has only just started so we won't be able to repair it until it is over."

To re-turf the green would cost thousands of pounds so the club will have to pay to have special soil laid down. However the work cannot begin until the end of the season.

Mr Kelly added: "We won't be able to lay the soil down until the end of the season in a few months time because of how long it will take to do, which means we won't be able to use the green to its full potential."

"The green keeper is doing his best to get rid of as much of the oil as he can but a part of it will be cordoned off until it is fixed."

Knife used by gang in raid on petrol station

SERVICE station staff were confronted at knifepoint by three men wearing balaclavas.

The raiders made off with a quantity of cash and cigarettes from the Texaco petrol station on the A449 Penkridge at 5.30am on Easter Sunday (April 20).

The staff, who were forced into a back room, raised the alarm. All attempts to trace the offenders proved in vain. The employees were left shaken but otherwise unhurt.

Local Police Team Commander, Inspector Geoff Knight said: "Penkridge has always been a very safe area to live and work and I am sure the local residents will be appalled by this incident.

"We had a spate of this type of crime at the end of last summer across South Staffordshire and we carried out a very successful policing operation together with West Midlands colleagues which put an end to it.

"We will again be increasing our patrol activity to target these offenders and bring them to justice."

Anyone with information is asked to call Sgt Nigel Braun on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Double record breakers

DRAYTON Manor theme park has something to shout about after it broke two world records. The park reclaimed its record for the largest gathering of people in onesies, followed by the longest scream by a crowd of people.

Some 3,152 wore all-in-one pyjamas as the park took back its official Guinness World onesie Record. They then smashed the scream title by maintaining 80 decibels for eight minutes and 45 seconds.

CEO and managing director Colin Bryan said: "It's a fantastic achievement."

Son's killer is the root of all evil, says mother

THE mother of murder victim Richard Deakin has welcomed a decision by top judges to uphold his killer's jail sentence – calling David Harrison the 'root of all evil'.

Harrison shot dead 27-year-old Mr Deakin with a sawn-off shotgun at the businessman's home in Meadway Street, Chasetown.

The killer was sent down for 37 years after being found guilty of murder at Birmingham Crown Court in December 2012 but challenged the length of his sentence at the court of appeal.

Judges ruled his sentence for the 'carefully planned and professionally-executed' murder was justified.

Mr Deakin's mother Carol said the decision was the correct one.

"I'm over the moon he didn't get anything knocked off his sentence," she said. "He needs to pay for what he did and he got exactly what he deserved."

Convicted

"I don't know how he had the nerve to appeal in the first place."

Harrison, aged 64, from Bilston, also launched a bid to try to appeal against his conviction – but this was rejected.

Getaway driver Darryl Dickens was convicted alongside Harrison and given 30 years.

Black Country drug lord John Anslow was accused of organising the murder but was found not guilty last month.

Mrs Deakin said her family had been put through enough heartache with two murder trials already.

"As a mother, if David Harrison had a son and I'd gone round to his house and shot him, would he want me to go to prison for a very long time? The answer to that is yes.

Mother Carol Deakin

"He's locked in prison now and what has all this achieved? It's a life for a life – he's the root of all evil."

Harrison's barrister Mr Adrian Keeling QC, in bid to get an appeal against his conviction heard by judges, told the Court of Appeal hearing that identification evidence linking Harrison to the murder was 'weak'.

During his and Dickens' trial, jurors heard that police informant Alan Cash identified Harrison from CCTV footage shown on BBC programme Crime-watch.

Mr Keeling said Cash's evidence was of characteristics, but not of a specific individual, but this was rejected by judges.

Expansion of quarries set for go-ahead

PLANS to expand quarries across Staffordshire and build new ones were this week set to be backed by council bosses.

The sites in Alrewas, Calf Heath and Saredon will be developed to keep the industry going.

A Staffordshire County Council report says the quarries are crucial for the county's economy and that they will support applications that have taken into account residents and the environment.

The proposals were going before the prosperous Staffordshire select committee.

Details of where new quarries would be built have not been revealed but bosses say limited space at existing sites could mean new developments would be needed in the future.

A report by infrastructure chief Mark Winnington says: "During 2002-11 the average sales of sand and gravel were 5.4 million tons per annum, within a range from 3.7 million tonnes to 6.8 million tons."

"Based on this 10-year average figure, current permitted reserves would be depleted by 2025. To maintain the capacity to produce at 5.4 million tonnes per annum requires additional reserves to be permitted within the next 10 years."

Traders' Easter delivery to hospital

Traders pictured with the eggs they donated to Cannock Chase Hospital patients

PATIENTS at Cannock Chase Hospital were treated to an 'egg-stra' special delivery, just in time for Easter.

Kind-hearted Cannock Market Traders Federation have donated chocolate Easter eggs to the hospital, including special treats for diabetic patients, for more than 20 years.

Federation secretary Margaret Lavender said: "This is now the 21st year that we've done the Easter egg drop at the hospital. It's our way of giving something back to the community."

Matron Diane Marson said: "The gifts are very much appreciated. It's always lovely to see the look on the faces of our patients when they are given an Easter gift."

Beauty spot sports plan

A BEAUTY spot could become one of the country's top watersports venues under plans for a huge revamp.

Chasewater Country Park near Burntwood could also house an education centre and community garden.

The 890-acre site was recently taken over by Staffordshire County Council – and bosses are drawing up plans for its future. Until now details of the revamp have not been made public. But the council has revealed a series of options for how the land could be used to attract more visitors and boost income.

Outreach

One plan is for the site to become a venue for water-skiing, sailing, windsurfing, wakeboarding, triathlon and BMX. Another is to build an 'outreach centre' for schools or colleges in the area. Bosses also raised the idea of a community farm, gardens, orchards, allotments and gardens. Plans are in the early stages and council chiefs will make a decision in the coming weeks over which options to pursue.

They will also look at whether a new group could be set up to look after the park or whether management could be transferred to a private firm.

The county council previously managed the visitor centre and enterprise centre.

Faster net access in on the way

HIGH-SPEED broadband will be installed in Penkridge and has been labelled as an important step forward for the county.

The £27.8 million scheme for more than 4,000 properties across Staffordshire was announced last month – and bosses have revealed that homes will start being connected in the coming weeks.

Work will be carried out in Penkridge, as well as in Yarnfield in Stone and Yoxall. Bosses want more than 88,000 homes and businesses – in mainly rural areas – to access high-speed broadband.

Progressing

Mike Cook, BT's regional director for the West Midlands, said: "Superfast Staffordshire is a major engineering project but work to connect the first communities is progressing well.

"The internet is playing an increasingly important part in our lives which is why the strong progress being made by Superfast Staffordshire is so important.

"Whether it's small businesses keeping in touch with their customers and suppliers, children doing their homework or playing online or people that want to work from home. Each of these things is made easier, quicker and better by faster fibre broadband."

Friends saddle up for ride to support cancer charity

A GROUP of friends have raised more than £1,000 for charity after embarking on a two-day cycle ride.

Alan Bailey cycled from his home in Penkridge to Abersoch in North Wales to raise cash for cancer charity Help Harry Help Others.

The 45-year-old of St Modwena Way, made the 140-mile trip with friends, Richard Lever, also from Penkridge, David Wild from Stoke-on-Trent and Lee Butler from Tamworth.

He said: "This was the first cycle ride I had done and although it was really tough, we all discovered that we were a lot fitter than we thought we were.

Families

"Between us we managed to raise £1,500. A friend of a friend lost somebody to cancer and that is why we decided to do the ride together for this particular charity.

"Through our fundraising we want to find a cure for brain cancer, to help families who are affected by any cancer, and to help the people who support them.

"We all enjoy our cycling and although it was a bit of a challenge, the weather was great and we spurred each other on to the very end."

The group raised around £500 each which will go towards helping people facing cancer.

Mr Bailey, who works at Edmundson Electrical Ltd in Stoke-on-Trent, added: "I have known each of the lads for years.

"We go out every two to three months together which will hopefully help us when we are on our way.

"We are now thinking about doing another cycle ride for charity because it was a lot of fun.

"Our families are proud of us for doing it but did say that they wanted us to get there in one piece."

Sign up plea on annual fun run

VILLAGERS are being encouraged to sign up for this year's Penkridge fun run. The 2.5 mile event will start from the Haling Dene Centre on Sunday June 29 between 10am and 4pm. It is open to all ages and abilities. For details or to sign up visit www.penkridge.rounhtable.co.uk

Brass band plays for organ fund

MORE than £20,000 has been raised in an attempt to restore an organ to its former glory.

The Organ Restoration Appeal Committee needs £80,000 to restore the 125-year-old church organ at St Michael and All Angels Church in Penkridge.

A charity concert raised a further £285.50 towards the fund, bringing the total so far to £21,606.

Estimated

The instrument has been surveyed by renowned expert Paul Hale, Rector Cori at Southwell minster and it is estimated that it will take two years of fundraising to raise the total sum needed.

Rugeley Power Station Brass Band will perform at the church on Saturday, May 10 to raise more money for the appeal.

Celebration of the village

AN event celebrating all things Penkridge will be held at the Haling Dene Centre in Cannock Road next month.

Voluntary organisations and charities will give out information about their work at Lets Celebrate Penkridge on Saturday, May 10.

There will be attractions for all the family from 11am to 3pm as well as various stalls and displays.

Optic illusion as shed made to look like pub

FROM the outside, it looks like just another garden shed. But step inside and it's a shed like no other.

Father-of-two Stephen Worrallo has spent the past four years converting the back garden shed at his home in Cannock to look like a pub.

With a full bar including eight pumps, optics, stools, records glued to the ceiling and even a decorative disco mirror ball, Mr Worrallo says it delights everyone who sees it.

The 63-year-old said it had always been a dream of his to create his own replica pub.

He said he had spent just £150 sourcing materials to build an extension to the shed himself.

"It's like an Aladdin's cave. Everyone should have one," he said.

"It's something I've always wanted to do," he added.

Extended

"I started off with a shed that was 8ft by 6ft and extended it to 12ft by 8ft.

"It's in my back garden and about 8ft away from my back door. I bought the wood and extended it myself.

"I've never done anything like this before. It's cost £150 because I've done it myself.

"I was always interested in working with wood. I want to make it even bigger. If I can, I'm going to put another shed on the side and cut through into it. It will probably add another 4ft or 5ft to it.

"It's just a hobby. I don't use it as an actual pub but it's good for parties. "The pumps are just for show. I've had people coming round who said it was fantastic and are absolutely gobsmacked."

Mr Worrallo said he had also collected hundreds of beer pump fronts and beer mats to decorate the unique shed.

Many of them adorn the walls and help to create the bar's colourful surroundings, while cuddly toys sitting on one of the shelves adds to its cosy charm. Dozens of records decorate the ceiling and next to them a sign reads

Steve Worrallo in the bar area of the replica pub he built in his shed

The shed which has been converted into a pub in Steve Worrallo's garden

'Good Here Ah It', while another reads 'Snug'.

He added: "I've also got a mirror ball and about 40 different glasses.

Decoration

"I've collected a lot of things by asking for them in pubs. There's records and CDs on the ceiling. I glued them on for decoration.

"It's taken four years to get together. I'm absolutely gobsmacked at how it's come together.

"I've done it bit by bit. I've also built a barbecue and I've even got a bit of a beer garden."

EATING OUT

WITH eight pubs in the one village, there is no shortage of choice for diners and drinkers in Penkridge.

They will be hard pressed, however, to find one that serves food as good as at the Littleton Arms.

Tony Later, who has 20 years in the pub industry, has run the St Michael's Square premises for the last nine years and it has become a popular venue, serving as a pub, restaurant and hotel.

With Penkridge ideally situated off the M6, the Littleton attracts many customers either passing through or staying in the area on business, for short breaks or weddings nearby.

Doubled

The Littleton has 10 rooms and a high occupancy rate. Seating inside the restaurant numbers 76, but that figure is doubled when the bar and outside areas are taken into account. More tables are planned, just in time for the summer – and the football World Cup.

A number of real ales are served, and my appetite was immediately whetted by a hat-trick of ales, served in special third of a pint glasses.

Food is freshly sourced and these are listed on the menu. For example, cheeses, game and poultry come from the village itself, beef and lamb are provided by a farm in Haughton, dairy products from Bradley and for fruit and veg look no further than Stafford.

The menu is updated seasonally and the food is presented so well that it could be argued it's too good to eat.

My seared pigeon starter was a case in point, served with a nicoise salad and sweet beets. Mains include traditional fish and chips, which was my partner's choice. They even came with minty mushy peas. I opted for seared sea bass fillets, crayfish, squid ink and chilli linguine, accompanied by wood-fired peppers and spring onions. In a word: Delicious.

From a dessert lists that includes pistachio and blood orange cake and dark chocolate dulce, we opted for rhubarb curd tart and blackcurrant Eton mess.

It costs at least £20 for three courses, not unreasonable for top-class food at a pleasant well-run venue.

Pearce-ing humour from funnyman Billy

POPULAR funnyman Billy Pearce will entertain theatrogoers in Cannock next month.

The British comedy award winner appears at the Prince of Wales Centre at 7.30pm on Saturday, May 24. The comic brings his brand of adult humour to the Church Street venue as part of his latest national tour. Tickets are priced at £18.50.

Children's favourites Sooty, Sweep and Soo arrive at the theatre for two shows during the Whitsun half-term break. Showtimes on Thursday, May 29 are 11am and 2.30pm.

Guests

Youngsters can join in the fun and games as Richard Cadell tries to keep the mischievous yellow bear under control as he celebrates his birthday. Special guests include Butch the dog and Ramsbottom the snake.

There is also the chance to meet Richard and Sooty after the show, which is full of magic, music and mayhem.

A concert celebrating Queen's finest live shows from 1974 to 86 promises to be a kind of magic.

Internationally renowned tribute band The Bohemians will take fans back to when Queen played the Hammersmith Odeon, as shown on The Old Grey Whistle Test, through to the iconic magic tour. Tickets are £18 for a 7.30pm May 18 show.

Call the box office on 01543 578762.

Alan, alias Aynuk, likes to tickle the ivories at his 'dream home' in Netherton

Early days — Alan with John Guest, the second Ayli

Alan Smith and John Plant performing a wartime sketch

Master of mirth has had a bostin' career

AYNUK and Ayli are as synonymous with the Black Country as faggots and paes.

The comic characters, depicted in cartoons in the Express & Star by artist Paul Sellers, were brought to life one evening in a church hall. "They'll say 'he's here again'," says Alan Smith, better known as Aynuk, as he marks the 50th anniversary of the duo's first stage appearance.

The veteran comic, 76, was inspired after seeing one of the most famous comedy partnerships.

"My mother and father took me as a lad of eight years old to Dudley Hippodrome and I sat laughing at two Americans called Laurel and Hardy and from that evening the spark was lit," he explains.

Born in Park Road, Netherton, Alan had attended Northfield Road School and then got a job at boiler makers Danks doing office work. He moved onto auto electrics firm FH Jennings, also in Netherton,

MEMORY LANE
by Andy Turton

where he met his future wife Molie.

They tied the knot at St John's Church, Kates Hill, and have been married 55 years, moving into their 'dream home' in Arch Hill Street, Netherton, 47 years ago.

The couple had two children, Jayne and Paul, have seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

After national service, Alan returned to Jennings where he met future comedy partner John Plant. His love of performing never waned and he became producer for a drama group at Cole Street Methodist Church, and was asked to dream up ideas for a variety show.

A music hall artist called Ernie Garner, performing in the Midlands at the turn of the 20th century, had often referred to two Black Country characters, Aynuk and Ayli. The names were derived from Old Testament prophets Enoch and Eli or Elijah.

Alan's friend Harry Felton joined him to play Ayli. They performed at Cole Street Methodist Church on April 6, 1964, and the show was a success. Alan was soon being invited to appear at clubs but Harry did not want to work weekends. Alan approached friend John Guest to take on the role. "I said 'Yow'm a natural. Yow luk saft any road'."

They formed a partnership lasting more than 20 years. To cement the bond further, Alan's daughter Jayne married John's youngest son Ian at St Mary's Church, King'swinford, watched by Aynuk and Ayli, and are celebrating 30 years of marriage.

Mr Guest had to relinquish the role in the mid-1980s due to ill health and then Alan called upon his old friend John Plant.

John Guest died in June 2006 and John Plant died five months later aged 54. Alan is still performing matinee shows as 'Just Aynuk'.

Generation War: Our Mothers, Our Fathers (BBC2, 9.30pm)

Usually, if you want a Saturday night fix of subtitled drama, you have to turn to BBC Four. But now BBC Two is getting in on the act as well with this new series, the first foreign language show to premiere on the channel since The Kingdom back in 2001. But it's not just the fact that the characters aren't speaking English that makes Generation War unusual – it's also exploring the Second World War from the perspectives of five German friends. It opens in Berlin, in the summer of 1941, as highly decorated officer Wilhelm prepares to be leave for the eastern front with his bookish younger brother Friedhelm. But it's their Jewish friend Viktor who appears to be facing the most uncertain future.

Who'll be best when it comes to being worst? Richard Osman is the one with the answers.

7.50 The National Lottery: In It To Win It. Dale Winton presents the quiz in which five contestants pit their wits to scoop a big cash prize. Only those in the winners' row will have a chance of taking home the loot, so they will need to get all the answers right – as well as a little bit of luck on their side. Includes the Lotto and Thunderball draws, hosted by Kate Garraway.

Brenda Blethyn

Vera
(ITV, 8pm)

Not only did author Ann Cleeves create the books and characters on which the acclaimed Shetland is based, she's also the brains behind DCI Vera Stanhope, who's back for a new series. DS Ashworth's daughter witnesses the murder of pensioner Margaret Kraszewski on a busy Newcastle train at the height of rush hour. As a result, he's keener than ever to help Vera apprehend the killer, and the trail leads them to the B&B Margaret shared with a woman and her teenage children. Further investigation suggests she knew her killer, and that her death was tied to secrets from her past. Brenda Blethyn, David Leon, Jon Morrison, Clare Calbraith, Sonya Cassidy, Eva Birthistle, Alistair Petrie and Paul Copley star.

Film Choices

Smokin' Aces, ITV, 10.35pm
 A Las Vegas showman agrees to become an FBI informant and dish the dirt on a big-time mobster. However, the gangster responds by putting a price on his head, and soon a motley crew of assassins from across the country are vying to claim the bounty – while the showman only has two agents for protection. Comedy crime drama, starring Jeremy Piven, Ben Affleck, Zach Cumber, Andy Garcia and Ray Liotta. (2007)

TUESDAY
Goodnight for Justice: Queen of Hearts, Channel 5, 3.15pm
 Judge John Goodnight intercedes in a stagecoach robbery and rescues the only surviving passenger. He escorts her to safety by riverboat, gradually learning she is a con-woman who was on her way to prison. His staunch morals are tested as he is tempted to help her escape justice. Western sequel, starring Luke Perry, Katharine Isabelle and Ricky Schroder. (2013)

WEDNESDAY
A Bronx Tale, BBC1, 11.45pm
 An honest, hard-working bus driver watches helplessly as his teenage son falls under the spell of a smooth-talking, sharp-suited gangster and is gradually drawn deeper into the criminal underworld. Crime drama, directed by and starring Robert De Niro. (1993)

Withnail & I, Friday, Channel 4, 12.30am

THURSDAY
Stealing Paradise, Channel 5, 3.15pm
 An aeronautical engineer is outraged when a colleague steals her ideas for himself and patents them. When he is later found dead, she becomes the prime suspect in the police investigation, and must find a way to clear her name. Thriller, starring Rachael Leigh Cook. (2011)

FRIDAY
My Family's Secret, Channel 5, 3.15pm
 A man attempts suicide, leaving a cryptic note claiming he may have caused his sister's death. His wife goes back to his home town in search of answers and asks his brother for help. She does not realise her brother-in-law has a split personality, and digging up the past brings out his more dangerous aspects. Thriller, starring Nicholle Tom, Philip Riccio and Dylan Neal. (2010)

Withnail & I, Channel 4, 12.30am
 Two hard-drinking unemployed actors sharing a grotty flat in late 1960s London think they can escape their miserable existence by decamping to a cottage in the Lake District. But finding no respite from their problems, the less self-destructive of the pair comes to realise he has to leave his friend behind. Cult black comedy, starring Richard E Grant and Paul McGann. (1987)

Pick of the Week

Vera tries to keep her new case on track

Ann Cleeves must be feeling pretty pleased with the way her career is going at the moment.

The 60-year-old author's novels continue to sell well and the TV series Shetland, which is based on her books about DI Jimmy Perez, has just ended an acclaimed run on BBC1.

There's hardly been time to draw breath between that and the start of Vera's fourth series.

DCI Vera Stanhope, played so convincingly by Brenda Blethyn, was also created by Cleeves, and the first three sets of cases have proved popular with ITV viewers – and with the actress who plays her.

Blethyn has a variety of acclaimed roles to her name, including an Oscar nomination for playing an overbearing mother in Little Voice, but Vera is her longest acting commitment to date.

"I'll continue to play Vera for as long as the audience wants to see her, as I absolutely love the character," says the actress. "I was first attracted to the role because the drama focuses on the crime rather than her personal life, and Vera's not your usual run-of-the-mill detective. She doesn't come with any baggage; she's not hampered by romance. If you passed her in the street you wouldn't dream she was a detective."

"The success of Vera is down to a team effort. It sounds a cliché to say it, but every single person in the cast and crew plays a vital role in the show's success. The international success of the previous three series is very gratifying and of course it's great to receive such positive feedback from fans."

In January, Cleeves' latest book featuring DCI Stanhope, Harbour Street, was published. It also forms the basis of the first case to be tackled by the character in this fourth run.

DS Ashworth's daughter witnesses the murder of pensioner Margaret Kraszewski on a busy Newcastle train at the height of rush hour.

As a result, he's keener than ever to help Vera apprehend the killer, particularly as he feels partly to blame for his daughter being on the train in the first place.

"Joe's daughter Jessie is under a lot of pressure to recall the events that took place, which is obviously very distressing for one so young, and which creates tension between Joe and Celine. Had Joe followed his wife's advice and paid for a taxi home, their daughter would have been spared the anguish."

The investigation eventually leads Vera and Joe to the 5&B Margaret shared with a woman and her teenage children. Further investigation suggests she knew her killer, and that her death was tied to secrets from her past.

Once this case is wrapped up, there are three more for the duo to get their teeth into – what can we expect from those?

"Viewers will meet Marcus Summer (Kingsley Ben-Adir), our new pathologist, who is joining the team following Billy's departure," explains Blethyn. "He's a pretty smart cookie and quickly gets the measure of Vera!"

"And as always we have some stunning landscapes featured across the four films."

David Leon and Brenda Blethyn star in Vera, Sunday, ITV, 8pm

Best of the Rest

Britain's Most Extreme Weather, Channel 4, 8pm
 It's been a mild winter, but Britain has been battered by terrible storms and gale force winds, not to mention a tidal surge. Flooding has wrecked the homes of thousands living across the country – and if extreme weather continues through the summer, we may end up with a drought. But why have we been facing such unusual conditions? In this four-part series, weatherman Alex Beresford attempts to find out. He also travels through the archives to find out if we're now facing the worst weather our shores have ever faced – and if things are getting worse. The first programme focuses on floods, and it seems that compared to the aftermath of the Great Storm of 1703, in 2014 we've got away with things lightly.

Happy Valley, BBC1, 9pm
 Writer Sally Wainwright and actress Sarah Lancashire must have formed a solid friendship after the incredibly successful Last Tango in Halifax – they've reteamed for this crime thriller, which incidentally is filmed not too far away from that romantic drama, in Calderdale, West Yorkshire. But while the backdrop of the rolling hills and sleepy villages may seem picturesque, there's enough crime going down to keep the local bobbies busy. Catherine Cawood (Lancashire) is the sergeant on duty when flustered accountant Kevin Weatherill (Steve Pemberton) stumbles into the station to report a crime – a crime that was his own doing.

Secret Eaters, Channel 4, 8pm
 Having been together for four years, Allan and Emma are in that 'comfortable' stage – so much so that they have no idea why they seem to be putting on so much weight. But the surveillance cameras reveal something we can all be guilty of – super-sized portions at meal times. Not to worry – Anna Richardson is on hand with some no-nonsense advice and a plan of action to ensure the couple change their lifestyles and begin to notice the changes by the belt notch. Meanwhile, psychologist Dr Christy Ferguson sets up an experiment in a Manchester office to see if pre-ordering your lunch means you're more likely to make healthier choices than choosing on impulse.

Derek, Channel 4, 10pm
 Brace yourselves for Kev as you've never seen him before – or at least, doing something you never expected. Since we first met him in the first series, he's been a layabout who's preferred to spend his days downing cans of lager rather than actually doing anything constructive. But Kev seems set to change his ways when he discovers there are jobs available at Broadhill – seeing as he spends most of his time hanging out at the place, he may as well get paid for it, right? But cleaning up his act won't be easy... Meanwhile, Hannah worries about Vicky's new relationship and Derek is stirred up by a new acquaintance.

THURSDAY
Posh Pawn, Channel 4, 8pm
 Millions of us telly addicts love spotting a bargain without leaving the comfort of our sofas, whether it's the whimsical charm of homegrown hit Bargain Hunt, or the high-octane, trailer trash world of Stateside smash Storage Hunters.

However, there's been a new edition to the genre in recent weeks thanks to Posh Pawn, the documentary series uncovering the hidden world of high-end pawnbroking. This week we meet reformed 1980s cat burglar Sid. He hopes to raise cash with assistance from his family and their jewellery. Meanwhile, Prestige Pawnbrokers boss James gets a shock while test driving a client's superbike at Brands Hatch, and new employee Kristen has to value two huge tanzanite stones.

FRIDAY
The Trip to Italy, BBC2, 10pm
 Steve and Rob visit Pompeii and then have lunch at Relais Blu on the Sorrento coast, overlooking the isle of Capri. Continuing their journey by car they head to the next hotel, where Rob receives a call from his agent telling him he has got the part in the movie he auditioned for.

The Beatles: The Night That Changed America – A Grammy Salute, ITV, 10.35pm
 Entertainment special commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Fab Four's ground-breaking first appearance on The Ed Sullivan Show and celebrating their legacy. Songs performed on that momentous evening in 1964, as well as Beatles hits through the years, are covered here by some of the biggest names in music, including Maroon 5, Katy Perry, Ed Sheeran, Stevie Wonder, Alicia Keys and John Legend, and Eurythmics – reuniting for one night only. Paul McCartney and Ringo Starr team up for Hey Jude and With a Little Help from My Friends.

Style and practicality at heart of new Vivaro

By David Banner

The new Vauxhall Vivaro combines the functionality of a light commercial vehicle with the comfort and design of a passenger car.

Coming to market this summer, the second generation of Vauxhall's best-seller brings the award-winning 'sculptural artistry meets technical precision' design philosophy to the light commercial vehicle segment for the first time.

Complementing its new, eye-catching looks are state-of-the-art technologies and many practical, innovative features in the cabin, making the Vivaro an extremely attractive competitor in this key vehicle class. With approximately 50,000 vehicles sold annually, it accounts for over 10 per cent of its segment on the European market.

"The second generation Vauxhall Vivaro distinguishes itself with its superb practicality and quality. After 13 successful years on the market, we wanted to make the all-new Vivaro's packaging even more attractive while raising the standard of its core capabilities," said Mark Adams, Vauxhall/Opel's vice-president, design, describing the design team's task.

The new Vauxhall Vivaro's exterior is now even more elegant and modern. With a large, prominent grille, distinctive headlamps and the flowing blade side feature from Vauxhall's multi-award-winning design language, it includes the characteristic forms of the brand's passenger car models.

The headlamps are executed in high-gloss black mouldings with embedded chrome accents which enhance their jewel-like effect. The daytime running lights come with signature Vauxhall wing graphic design and are available with modern, crisp LED technology, giving the Vivaro an unmistakable look.

In all its elegance, with its wide face and clean, practical rear, the Vivaro clearly communicates the robustness which customers demand from the van during its everyday use.

Its side design brings sculptural artistry to the van segment, with the signature Vauxhall blade feature flowing from under the side mirrors back to the rear wheel-arches in the same style as the Insignia family and Astra GTC models.

Depending on how the new Vivaro is to be used – as a robust workhorse, a sophisticated company vehicle or a comfortable large-capacity passenger carrier – customers can choose between two body trim specifications. The core variant is particularly robust and rugged: many body components, such as the front bumper, grille, side mirror housings and the vertical rear mouldings are in a durable, black textured plastic material. And for the Sportive, all body elements gleam in the same colour and the grille shines in chrome.

The new Vivaro colour palette comprises 11 standard colours – two more than its predecessor – with five solid and six two-coat metallic finishes.

Modern

While the exterior, in all its elegance, clearly communicates the new Vivaro's robustness, its interior is designed to provide a modern, mobile workspace. The driver can choose comfort seats with lumbar support which are adjustable in length and height. All important functions in the cockpit are now positioned in line of sight and within optimal reach, ensuring ideal ergonomics. Their location played a central role in the design and layout of the driver and front passenger cabin area.

The steering wheel, with remote controls, is positioned at a more upright angle for improved driver comfort and the steering column is adjustable for both rake and reach. The new instrument panel now has an oval, digital speed read-out in the centre, flanked by the rev counter and fuel gauge in classic round forms.

The new Vivaro is not only a comfortable load carrier, it is also a mobile office, which is particularly important for a vehicle in this class.

The driver can install a notebook to his/her right and take care of desk work between journeys or set up the next customer appointment via email. Because, thanks to a sophisticated folding mechanism, the centre front seat can be quickly and easily transformed into a 'desk' with space for a laptop, turning the Vivaro's cab into a mobile, connected office.

Optimum on-board connectivity is becoming increasingly important, especially for commercial vehicles as they are often required to function as mobile office and business hubs.

To meet such needs, the new Vivaro offers a selection of different infotainment systems which can be optionally operated via steering wheel remote controls. These include the NAVI 50 system, with a seven-inch, intuitively-operated colour touchscreen giving the driver access to all important functions, such as radio, telephone and, of course, the navigation system including maps for 30 European countries.

It has a CD player, AM/FM radio, a double-tuner, AUX/USB ports and is MP3/WMA compatible. Bluetooth telephone connectivity and audio streaming are also provided, and maps can simply be updated by USB download.

The Power to Surprise

New model from BMW is a change of direction

By David Banner

It did everything that was asked of it, and more, but the biggest problem lies in the minds of potential buyers.

Having a good idea is only half the battle – possibly even less than half. The difficult bit tends to be convincing others that you're not completely cracked.

And so it was with the 3GT. Because BMW has for many decades now fashioned its position as a creator of fabulous saloons, estates and coupes, but there appears to be something of a mental block for anything that doesn't fit into that template.

I must admit that, before it arrived, I wasn't sure whether I would gel with the Gran Turismo's looks. But in the flesh, and with the Sport pack including 19in wheels, it looked the business – to these eyes at least. Particularly because the 3 Series saloon is pretty much everywhere and a little individuality goes a long way.

Better still, the differing look is for a purpose, namely the extra space on the inside. It's significantly longer than the saloon and Touring and has more length in the wheelbase – although to look at, you wouldn't think it was significantly bigger.

The pay-off is in the back seats though, which offer limo-like space. True, it wasn't often than anyone taller than the kids travelled in the back, but as any parent knows, the more space, the better.

Handy

The same goes for the boot too. There's more space than the 3 Series Touring with seats up or down. Over the six months the 3's boot swallowed everything from a jet washer to a rabbit hutch and never batted an eyelid. The standard electric hatch and rear-mounted release for the rear seats came in exceptionally handy too.

My '3 had the most humble of the diesel offerings, with a modest 143bhp but a very healthy 235lb/ft of torque. As diesels do, it loosened up as the miles rolled by and the performance was always more than enough.

It was thrifty with it too, although the biggest hurdle with achieving good fuel economy was the driver. Over the six months it averaged 48mpg, and that was with me generally not behaving myself. On the rare occasions I gave it the full eco approach, it would hit 70 or even 80 miles per gallon on a long run.

The other simple thing is the 3 GT was great fun to drive. It steered and handled with the kind of precision you don't expect from a family car, and that just made it all the harder to behave myself. In truth, it spent plenty of time trudging up and down motorways, and the comfortable seats and good driving position made short work of that too.

So, basically, the biggest problem with the 3 GT is people think they need a Touring or a saloon instead. By all means go right ahead, but given the GT beats both for space, offers a better ride and is subtly different from all the other 3 Series out there, it's worth seriously considering this instead.

This car summed up in a single word: Versatile.

New look for Vespa legend

Legendary scooter brand Vespa has launched a striking new model, the Primavera. Meaning 'spring' in Italian, the iconic Primavera first emerged in 1968 and went on to become a cult symbol of freedom in society.

Fast forward to 2014 and the new Vespa Primavera has evolved into a highly modern machine, which retains its vintage style from the original design.

Inspired by the refined elegance of the luxury Vespa 946, the new Primavera presents stunning aesthetics through a soft rounded shape, contrasted with sharp lines for a streamlined appearance.

Key design features include its pointed tapered tail, akin to a wasp's, which the famous scooter brand is so celebrated for.

The ultimate accessory for style-conscious urbanites, Vespa Primavera now comes in six colours – from classic monochrome shades to contemporary metallic tones.

Crafted from the finest Italian leather, the sculpted seat of the Vespa Primavera not only offers a stylish look but an exceptional level of comfort.

The scooter's all-new body is constructed from rigid steel, making the Primavera durable yet dynamic, allowing riders to manoeuvre through rush-hour traffic effortlessly.

Benefits also include improved fuel economy for lowered running costs.

Vespa Primavera 125cc and 150cc retail from £3,371.

ADAM, a new take on sector

By David Banner

The ADAM is Vauxhall's refreshingly different take on the small-car sector. It doesn't replace the brand's conventional citycar and supermini offerings but it does offer a more stylish option for buyers bored by the sight of BMW's reinvented MINI on every drive and unmoved by Fiat's funky 500. Here's a fashionable alternative with an encyclopaedic list of options.

The ADAM is available in three trim levels – Jam, Glam and Slam. Here, we focus on the ADAM Jam, which offers a fresh and bold modern look. It comes in two-tone design style both inside and out, and an expressive palette of colours are available which will grab and keep people's attention.

No fewer than 12 body colours means you can create a cool two-tone look with three optional roof packs.

Inside, you also have a choice of colour schemes and both are eye-catching. Vauxhall has thought of everything as far as style goes as even your ADAM's key matches your exterior choice.

The ADAM Jam Extreme takes you to the next level. Here you're provided with a coloured roof, front logo bar and stunning 17in Hurricane alloy wheels.

There's a vast amount of choice with ADAM Jam trim with prices starting from £11,805.

Mokka

There's a lot of promise about the Vauxhall Mokka too. It looks good, it's well equipped and it offers buyers a number of well-thought-out options.

The design is handsome, and it looks to be one of those car shapes which will age very well while more radical competitors date rapidly.

Top-of-the-range Exclusiv trim level brings even more colour, style and luxury to the Mokka, which has clearly been designed for the urban environment, but that's not to say the ability to be driven off-road has been totally neglected. To this end, Vauxhall wisely offers both front and four-wheel drive chassis options, with the all-wheel drive mechanicals being fully adaptive.

Exclusiv specification includes a multitude of standard features. Air conditioning and dual-zone climate control, DMB digital radio with CD/MP3 with aux-in socket and USB connection and iPod control along with Bluetooth functionality are all included within the Exclusiv package.

In addition to all this, you'll find the Mokka Exclusiv with steering wheel-mounted audio controls, cruise control, silver-effect roof rails, rain-sensitive windscreen wipers, electrically-adjustable heated door mirrors, front and rear electric windows, front fog lights, front and rear parking sensors, a leather covered steering wheel, stainless steel exhaust tailpipe and highly attractive sterling silver-effect 18in alloy wheels.

That's a pretty comprehensive tally and the list of standard safety features is just as generous with traction control, decent control system, switchable electronic stability programme, hill start assist, anti-lock braking system and a full complement of airbags to protect all the Mokka's occupants.

Prices for the Mokka Exclusiv start at £18,064.

FISHER

Eva Maria

God put His arms around you and lifted you to rest. His garden must be beautiful. He only takes the best.

Love you forever, forget you never.

God bless sweetheart until we meet again.

Heartbroken Jen and Steve.

Our wonderful Nan, now at peace. We will love and miss you every day.

With all our love from Donna and Toby.

X X

Great-Grandchildren Louisa and Joseph.

X X

Eva Maria

You were the most wonderful
Mother anyone could wish for.
A very special lady, kind, loving and caring, beautiful inside and out, loved by all who knew you. You will leave a huge hole in my life which can only be filled by the never ending love and the treasured memories you left me with.
Now free from suffering and back in the arms of our beloved Grandma and Grandad Talbot. I was truly blessed to have you for my Mother.

Sleep well my angel until we meet again, my love always,
Susan.

Goodbye my beautiful Mum, see you on the train in Heaven.

Love, Jimmy.

A golden heart stopped beating, hard working hands to rest, you broke our hearts to prove to us, God only takes the best.

Rest in peace Mum.

Love, Terry.

X

I will always think of you as each new day appears, my sorrow will slowly lessen and gone will be the tears but my love will continue as each year goes by, as I wait for my calling to once again be by your side.

Loved and missed, Linda,
Derek and Family.

Eva

We have loving thoughts and fond memories of a wonderful kind lady who will be sadly missed.

Margaret and Roy.

Ashcroft Hollow, Huntington
The Family and Friends of Eva Maria Fisher would like to thanks the Staff for their kindness and care to my Mum through her final months.
You are very special people and your support was very much appreciated.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with its Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree. Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Alex back in search for judo medals

STUDENT Alex Reeves has been awarded a scholarship to fund her trip to a contest in Holland.

Reeves, from Heath Hayes, is aiming to add another medal to her collection when she jets off to the Houvast Judo Tournament next month.

The 21-year-old, who ranked fourth in Great Britain, having started competing at national competitions at the age of 14.

A member of the England Judo squad, she took home a silver medal from the British Senior Championships in January 2013, and was allocated a place on the 2013/2014 British Squad.

Reeves, who is in the first year of her education studies course at the University of Worcester student, was forced to give up this place due to recent ill health.

But a university scholarship is helping Alex to return to the top of the rankings again.

She said: "Hearing that I had been given the scholarship made me feel really happy and privileged."

"It means that I can now try and get back into the more competitive judo after my qualification for the Houvast Judo Tournament in Mierlo."

Five-wicket win starts new season

CANNOCK Firsts won the toss and elected to bowl against Swindon.

They bowled them out for 159 thanks to a five wicket haul from Ed Fleet.

All the attack bowled brilliantly with Abbas and Shingler taking a wicket each. Special mention to Alex Beaman who took two wickets on his debut.

Cannock got off to a flyer in their chase and were 61-1 off 12 overs thanks to Andy Le Feaver and overseas player, Anthony Sams.

Swindon took three quick wickets leaving Cannock at 90-4 but 68 not out from Zak Shingler guided Cannock home by five wickets.

This result gives Cannock a wonderful start to the new season.

Aikido students' belting start to spring

BLACK Star Aikido students stepped into spring with their new belts having passed their gradings at the organisation's headquarters in Cheslyn Hay this month.

The four are: Jay Boxall, aged 16, and Jack Degville, Chris Davies and Stephanie Dunning, all 17.

Chief Instructor 6th Dan Shihan Tony Brown said: "Everyone has worked very hard to earn these grades. Jay and Steph earned the additional honour of becoming Senpai which means senior student."

"This follows the traditional Japanese structure of developing students so they may also assist those lower grades." Stephanie had a double celebration when she passed her driving test first time in the same week.

She said: "Aikido is a beautiful martial art. The locks and throws coupled with the strikes can be devastating but we are also taught the flowing circular movements so that we can show grace and style."

The club holds lessons Monday and Friday evenings at The Village Hall, Cheslyn Hay, for people aged 12 upwards. For details go to the website www.blackstaraikido.com or contact info@blackstaraikido.com

Bailey off but Pitmen bag Oxford victory

Oxford City 1Hednesford Town 2
GOALS in each half from Dave Macpherson and Marvin Johnson proved to be the difference in the first of the Pitmen's Easter fixtures, writes Scott Smith.

The Pitmen were forced to play for 40 minutes with 10 men after Wayne Riley was dismissed early in the second period for foul and abusive language.

It was the home side that started the better and they forced no less than six corners, all of which were defended by Hednesford.

But it was from a corner of their own that Town took the lead in the 15th minute as Ben Bailey met the ball at the back post and his header across goal was scrambled home by Macpherson from six-yards out.

On a bouncy pitch it was hard to play any kind of football and it was no surprise that set pieces provided the best chances.

Nodded

In the 28th minute Hednesford almost doubled their lead as Bailey once again got up well and this time his header found Riley who nodded wide at the near post.

Four minutes later The Pitmen were indebted to goalkeeper Dan Crane as a long ball into the box was unintentionally flicked goalwards at some pace by Town captain Darren Campion and only full length save from Crane stopped what would have been a certain goal.

In the minutes leading up to half time both sides had the ball in the back of the net, however both were ruled offside. Town wouldn't escape much longer though and in the third minute of stoppage time they switched off at a throw which led to Andy Ballard getting in down the left. His first shot was palmed away by Crane but the follow-up was emphatically driven home to bring his side level.

Ten minutes into the second half, Riley was given his marching orders. Despite the numerical disadvantage, the Pitmen coped with everything thrown at them. Then in the 72nd minute winger Johnson set off on a run from inside his own half, twisting and turning the City defenders one way and another before firing a perfectly placed shot across the goal and into the far corner of the net to give his side the lead.

The result was almost bettered in the first minute of stoppage time as Johnson tussled for possession with City goalkeeper Matt Bullman some 40 yards from goal and his toe-poked effort was just cleared off the line by Viv Solomon.

It mattered not as Hednesford played out time to record an important victory.

Boys kickbox their way to England squad

Kicking their way to success Callum Jones, left, Andy Evans and Owen Evans of Huntington Kickboxing Club

TALENTED kickboxers have won a string of prizes at a top competition and have been picked to represent their country. Five boys at Huntington Kickboxing Club won trophies at the WKC English Open National Championships in Manchester.

Their achievements mean they were picked to represent England at a competition in Portugal this November. Also at the club, 48-year-old Caron Jones achieved black belt on the same day as her son Callum, who is aged 12. Callum, as well as Owen Addison, Owen Evans, his brother Zac and Andy Evans, who is no relation, all aged 16, competed in Manchester in February and all won their individual competitions.

Mrs Jones said: "The whole team did really well. They all won their competitions and made it into the England kickboxing squad."

Around 40 kickboxers attend classes Littleton Green Community School, Huntington, on Tuesdays. The club is run by Shaun Preece. He also runs a gym on the Buxton's trading estate near Penkridge.

The boys will be competing for England at the World Karate and Kickboxing Championships ifrom November 1 to 4.

The club is on the lookout for new members. Anyone interested should call Mr Preece on 07976 774861.

Priest is spot-on to lift the cup

Cannock Chase Football League - Staffordshire FA Cup Final

FIRST Division CK77 pulled off a superb cup final victory over AFC Thistleberry from Stoke.

Trailing 1-0 at half time, stand-in keeper Luke Chapman came out of goal for the second half.

Nick Priest levelled but was then thrust into goal before Chapman pulled off a 35-yard goal.

Thistleberry came back to level at 2-2 and with no more goals after two hours of football it went down to penalties and then sudden death. Priest scored his and then saved the next one to win 9-8.

Cannock Charity Cup semi-final

First division Poets Corner reached their fourth final of the season with a 2-0 victory over Premier League Rugeley United to put them up against champions-elect, Ridware Oak. The final, on Sunday May 4 at 2.30pm at Evans Park, Stafford, will be their third in six days.

Cannock Charity Cup Semi-finals

A Tom Dyson hat-trick helped Bridgtown Social into the final by knocking out Hawkins Inex 3-2. They will play Victoria who knocked out Olly's 4-0, at Walsall Wood, on Friday May 9 at 7.30pm.

Lockmen lose out to Pegasus

Willenhall 2 Pegasus Jnr 3
A LATE fightback was not enough for Willenhall, who lost 3-2 at home to Pegasus Juniors in the League Cup.

The Lockmen failed to clear a fourth-minute cross. When the ball was swung back in, Julian Sharpe nodded an own goal.

Pegasus struck again from a 39th-minute free kick which was clipped into the box for skipper Paul Allan to flick home a header.

Lockmen's Eddie Wilson and Alex Carling both went close. He was sent off on 51 minutes, but the visitors hit a breakaway third.

Two goals from Lockmen substitute Jake Morgan on 88 and 89 minutes threatened extra time, but Pegasus held on.

Outdoor cricket training to begin

CANNOCK Cricket Club begins its outdoor junior training next week ahead of the 2014 season.

Sessions start on Monday, April 28, from 6pm at Chase Park, Church Lane, Hatherton. The club has 18 ECB qualified coaches, all of whom have full CRB clearance and Coaches Association insurance.

Players from school years 2, 3 and will train from 6 to 7.30pm at a cost of £3 per session. School years 5 to 11 will train from 6-8pm, at £3.50 per session. Juniors of all abilities are welcome.

This season, Cannock is running teams at Under-9s, 10s, 11s, 12s, 13s and 15s in the Staffordshire Youth Cricket League, as well as an Under-15 colts side playing 40-over cricket in the Shropshire League.

Girls can get involved at the same times and will have their own dedicated level two coach.

Senior nets run every Thursday from 6pm, and new members are more than welcome. The sessions are free. This season the club is running four sides on a Saturday, and one on a Sunday, as well as a team in the Mid Staffs 20/20 League.

For more information, call Graham Machin on 07836 371 043.

Rangers run over Sporting

Black Country Rangers 4 Sporting Khalsa 1

KHALSA had injuries and suspensions for their fourth game in seven days, so this was always going to be a tough game.

Both teams cancelled each other out in the early stages. Khalsa took the lead through Sam Pearson in the 25th minute. But bad defending and tired legs resulted in Khalsa conceding three late goals in the first half.

The second half saw Khalsa take the game to the hosts but some excellent saves by the Rangers' keeper denied Khalsa.

Khalsa were reduced to 10 men when Reece Cotterill was sent off. A late penalty secured victory for Rangers.

Pied Piper play cup winning tune

The Pied Piper team celebrate winning the Cannock Chase League Division Four Cup Final

A FATHER and son celebrated football success as part of a cup winning team.

Sam Ironmonger first played in the same team as his dad Adrian as a 16-year-old.

More than 10 years later, they, and Pied Piper team-mates are celebrating after winning the Cannock Chase League Division Four Cup Final.

Based at the Pye Green Road pub of the same name, they beat Soldiers 2-1 thanks to goals from Phil Hardware and Dave Brazier. It is the first trophy lifted by the side.

A club spokesman said: "We have been together for over 10 years however we have changed our names to change with our pub support but we have always stopped together." The cup final win also marked a significant achievement for manager Robert Marshall and captain Gary Taylor, both in their first season in their respective roles.

Point is Evans sent after first club goal

Romulus 2 Chasetown 2

CHASETOWN came from behind twice to earn a well-deserved draw and preserve their unbeaten record on Romulus' 3G pitch.

The Scholars could not have wished for a worse start to the game with James Reid netting inside the first two minutes to give the Sutton Coldfield side the lead in the Evo-Stik Division One South clash.

The Scholars responded brightly though, and a Jack Lees effort over the crossbar and a drive from Jono Gould which was pushed wide for a corner gave the visitors plenty of encouragement and showed that Chasetown were not going to take it lying down.

Joe Halsall also went close with a shot at goal before Chasetown deservedly drew level in the 26th minute with a little help from Romulus who put in an own goal.

Threat

Full-back Todd Evans threw long to the near post where Richard Teesdale put pressure on former Scholar Lee Smith who could only head towards his own goal with keeper Paul Evans unable to keep the ball out.

Reid was a constant threat for the home side and, against the run of play, the striker gave his side the advantage a minute before the teams went in for the break.

He created space for the shot and drove a low effort goalwards which deflected off Tesfa Robinson, wrong-footing Chasetown's keeper Danny Watson and trickling into the opposite corner. Reid forced Watson into two early second-half saves before Chasetown picked themselves up again and drew level for the second time in the match.

Just five minutes into the second period, Gould took a quick corner short to Lee Butler who whipped the ball towards the far post.

Halsall chipped it back into the box where Evans rifled a header beyond his namesake for his first goal for the club.

Evans almost provided another assist when Lees got on the end of his long throw and headed the ball against the crossbar.

With virtually the last kick of the match, Gould's volley was blocked by Roms defender Liam Francis to see the game out with both sides sharing the spoils.

Romulus: P Evans, Downes, Caines, Lee, Francis, L Smith, Maguire, O'Callaghan, Reid, Turton, Meer (Shearer 72). Subs not used: D Johnson, Chohan.

Wolves Under-21s beaten by Canaries

Wolves U21s 0 Norwich U21s 1

A GOAL shortly after the break from Norwich City's Joshua Murphy condemned Wolves Under-21s to a 1-0 defeat in the final game of the campaign.

The best chances in the first half fell to Norwich's Carlton Morris. He thundered a close-range header inches over the bar following a Ray Grant corner and, at the other end Eusebio Bancessi skipped between two defenders as he ran into the box but his cross was caught under the bar by Remi Matthews.

Shortly before half-time, Bancessi's pace took him clear of his marker as he ran in along the by-line. His pull back fell to Ben O'Hanlon who chose to check and cross rather than shooting and Ibrahim Keita was wide with his header.

In the second half, two early Anthony Forde corners had the Canaries defence at full stretch until the danger was finally cleared and it was Norwich's Murphy that broke the deadlock in the 50th minute as he drove the ball past Jon Platt from the edge of the box. Wolves went in search of a quick response but Bancessi's effort was blocked.

Hayes in need of point to stay up

Heath Hayes 0 Rotherham 0
THIS was a Midlands Alliance relegation tussle and it was easy to see why both sides are in trouble. Neither could put together any worthwhile moves as players were very nervy with so much at stake.

The result means Rotherham are relegated and Hayes need at least a point from their last game at Gornal to be sure of staying up.

Romans keeper Richard Froggatt looked as if he had gifted Hayes the opener when he spilled a Chris Geldart effort but he recovered just in time.

Hayes forced a series of corners which all came to nothing while at the other end Adam Jenkins was called upon to make a smart save from Dan Brown in the visitors' only serious effort of the first half.

After the break Hayes showed more attacking intent and Dave Waple came close with two good headers. From one quality move, a fine strike from Geldart was brilliantly tipped over.

Tempers began to get a little strained and following one unsavoury incident Hayes' Tom Baggott and Rotherham's Liam Shaw received their marching orders.

It looked as if a home goal was inevitable but that cutting edge was missing.

Reds out of drop zone

Willenhall Town 2 Shifnal Town 0

THE Lockmen produced a fine performance to beat a poor Shifnal outfit who had the bare 11 players, climbing out of the relegation places in the process.

Willenhall made the best possible start when a ball was played out to Alex Carling on the right and he cut inside before whipping a fine effort past the keeper.

Eddie Wilson also went close from a free-kick before a superb challenge on 17 minutes from Clarke in his own half saw him bounce up and pick out a racing Fuller with a precise 50-yard pass. Fuller fired first time under the keeper.

Andre Calder and Max Whitehouse both headed over from corners before Booth did well to deny the visitor's Andy Rich.

Carling had two shots saved early on.

Orient win helps Wolves to be champions

Leyton Orient 1 Wolves 3

KENNY JACKETT'S side are by some way the best side in League One this season, and, as their points total reflects, one of the most superior teams at this level for some time.

In that dizzying spell of goals and victories, Jackett's boys have hit the net 47 times and conceded just 11.

As overworked keeper Carl Ikeme said after their win over Orient, it's not always been as easy as the league table or those statistics now suggest.

There have been many times when fine marginal decisions have swung games one way or the other. But at almost every turn since that miserable defeat at Gillingham on January 3, Wolves have found a way to win.

Yes, you can argue things went their way – none more so than when Richard Stearman's clear handball in the penalty area was missed by referee Neil Swarbrick after 28 minutes when they were 1-0 ahead. Not for the first time this season did a decision go for them, but full marks to them for making the most of their opportunity. Four minutes later, Bakary Sako struck to make it 2-0 to finally draw level with long-departed Leigh Griffiths at the top of the club scoring charts.

And thereafter there was a certain inevitability about the outcome.

By then Stearman had nodded Wolves in front.

Two goals ahead, you might have been forgiven for thinking Wolves could have eased up a little. But that is not Jackett's way and it certainly wasn't the way the game was going. Perhaps as a gesture to their own admirable but flawed title hopes, Orient were like a dog with a bone and tore at the visitors' defence either side of half-time.

And after Ikeme foiled Dagnall and Mooney within the opening minute of the restart, it was little surprise when Cox side-footed home to halve the deficit 60 seconds later after Wolves failed to clear a high ball into the box.

James Henry's 30-yard drive that ripped past Jones in extra time added the gloss. Wolves fans won't care if it was flattering. They are champions and on their way back.

Jackett sold on success

KENNY JACKETT will not be offered a long-term contract as Wolves chief executive Jez Moxey insisted the title-winning boss can achieve all his ambitions at Molineux.

Head coach Jackett's stock is high after leading Wolves to the League One title in his first season on a wave of an overhauled squad, five club records and a rebuilt relationship with fans.

But although Jackett's achievements will attract attention, Moxey remains relaxed with no plans to improve the 52-year-old's one-year rolling deal.

"He feels this club has the potential to satisfy the ambitions he has," said Moxey.

"Anyone who's successful can become a target for bigger fish, but I've got no concerns in that regard because Ken has bought into the project that is Wolves."

"And he understands the opportunity that's been presented to him to come here."

"He's totally sold on the project and we're only just starting."

"From day one, he moved his family to within a few miles of the ground and he's committed to the task."

PITMEN PLAY-OFF PLACE SECURED

Hednesford Town 4 Worcester City 0

A SCINTILLATING second half performance from Hednesford Town ensured a top five finish in the Skril North and a place in the play-offs.

The Pitmen went into the game knowing just one more point would secure the coveted top five finish, writes Scott Smith.

Football

However, with the prospect of home advantage the further you finish up the league table, Rob Smith's side also knew three points would very much go towards helping them in this quest.

The start of the game saw neither goalkeeper being really tested.

In fact the closest either side came to opening the scoring came in the 21st minute when a long Worcester throw into the box was flicked just over his own bar by Town's Ben Bailey.

Forgettable

In a pretty forgettable first half the only note of action came when Pitmen custodian Dan Crane had to react quickly to a short back header from John Disney to deny Ethan Moore a chance.

Seven minutes into the second period Hednesford created their first real chance when Dave Macpherson won possession and fed Marvin Johnson who saw his low driven cross just taken off Danny Glover's toe for a corner.

On the hour mark Town finally managed to make the breakthrough when the ball sat up perfectly for Macpherson to strike a superb dipping effort from 30 yards with his left foot off the underside of the bar for one of the goals of the season.

This really lifted Hednesford's game and with 13 minutes remaining they made it 2-0. A long throw into the penalty area was flicked on and Wayne Riley was able to nod home at the back post from five yards out.

As the game ticked towards the 90th minute Hednesford were able to extend their lead from the penalty spot as substitute Paul Sullivan was brought down inside the box. John Disney kept his composure from 12 yards in order to send goalkeeper Leigh Bedwell the wrong way to make it 3-0.

Just a minute later Town extended the scoreline further when Sullivan broke the offside trap and he kept his cool to round Bedwell, slot home into an empty net to complete an emphatic victory for the home side.

Hednesford now head to Barrow on Saturday knowing that a place in the Play Offs is secured with a game against Altrincham or North Ferriby United their most likely return in the end of season promotion run-in.

Hednesford's Paul McCone keeps the pressure on the Worcester keeper
